Indonesian Soldiers Confined to Barracks

All Officers Are Wearing Battle Dress

Communist Party Accused of Seeking 'Another Korea'

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian army today announced all its men have been "confined to barracks." Men on leave were ordered to report immediately to their posts.

The army spokesman, Maj. Harsone, refused to give any explanation for the orders. But all officers at army headquarters were wearing battle dress.

Meanwhile, a member of Indonesia's largest Moslem party, the Masjumi, accused the Communist party of trying to make Indonesia "another Korea."

"If the foreign subversion movement is left unchecked, a big calamity will befall the Indonesian people," said Isa Anshary, a Masjumi member of the Constituent Assembly.

Business circles said that British, French and Belgian estates and some American holdings — although so far not threatened by the government seizure which has befallen Dutch interests — face paralysis because of the threatened mass exodus of Dutch citizens from Indonesia.

The estates, growing rubber tea, copra, coffee, sugar and spices, are operated mostly by Dutch managers who were described as "irreplaceable" at short notice. Business sources said it takes more than 20 years to train estate managers.

The majority of the Dutch are obviously leaving. Shipping companies, travel agencies and airlines are heavily booked. The Dutch Chamber of Commerce said it would like to get all the estimated 46,000 Dutch out within three months but it more likely would take six months.

American holdings are largely in oil or in rubber estates and generally are concentrated on Sumatra.

The U.S. oil companies have many American employes as well as Dutch so would not be too severely crippled. But the Goodyear Rubber Co., for example, which has the largest foreign-owned estate in Indonesia, would suffer badly from the Dutch departure.

American circles said the concentration of U.S. interests in Sumatra is a "lucky thing," since that big island has been quiet during the current crisis and lukewarm toward the anti-Dutch campaign. Much of Sumatra is operating virtually independent of the central government, and business interests there appear secure, at least for the moment.

Slightly more than 400 Americans are on Java, seat of the agitation against the Dutch. Most of them are attached to the U.S. Embassy or allied agencies. U.S. firms generally mainain only small offcies on Java, with a few American employes and the rest Indonesian personnel.

Bulletin

The strike which has been in progress at the Whiteman Air Force Base the past several days has ended and pickets have been removed from the various entrances to the base. The settlement was reached shortly after noon Thursday.

Royal Cowger of the Teamsters Union here in Sedalia participated in the discussions which arose over non-union workers being employed by the Lamar Barton Construction Co. of Sarasota, Fla. It resulted in other crafts placing pickets at the gates of the base and other projects became idle.

A meeting was held today with Donald Armstrong of Sarasota, a representative of the construction company, Capt. T. L. Aird of the base procurement division, T. B. Gertkin of the Air Material Command from Wright-Patterson Air Base, Indianapolis, Ind., and Cowger.

Cowger stated the dispute was settled and the pickets ordered removed.

Work on all projects will resume immediately.

'Stampede' Is Charged

Claims Are Conflicting On Subway Service

NEW YORK (AP) — Transit officials and police today reported growing improvement in subway service, disrupted since Monday by a motormen's strike which has created travel difficulties for millions.

But an official of the striking union termed "a damned lie" a claim of the New York Transit Authority that more and more motormen were going back to work.

Frank A. Zelano, executive secretary of the Motormen's Benevolent Assn., said such claims were only intended to stampede and confuse the men.

Police headquarters said about 70 per cent of scheduled subway train runs were made during the rush hour today, a figure somewhat above yesterday's performance.

The Transit Authority said 72 more motormen appeared for work between midnight and 8 a.m. than on the same shift yesterday, putting the total today at 404. Yesterday's figure was 422. The normal work schedule for those hours called for 816 men.

A TA official termed significant the fact that 56 motormen reported for work on the Independent division of the subway system early today, as compared with 27 yesterday.

The MBA has more members on the Independent division than on the other two subway divisions in the city.

"The Transit Authority report that men are returning to work is a damned lie. It was intended to stampede and confuse our men, and if we fall for this gimmick, we'll lose this fight. They're desperate, and they'll use any foul means," Zelano said.

The MBA, with support from other craft unions, called its walkout in an effort to obtain bargaining rights with the Transit Authority. Last Night, Zelano declared there was a chance of settlement of all issues but did not elaborate.

Blast Rocks Big Hotel; 1 Found Dead

Guests Forced Out in Cold; Hoses Freeze

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A shattering explosion rocked the three-story Beckham Hotel last night and was followed by raging fire. One body was found in the ruins. One of the 32 registered guests was missing.

The body of Joshua B. Crater of Celeste, Tex., a guest at the hotel, was found in the wreckage on the third floor.

Three persons were hospitalized and others were treated for cuts, bruises and shock. Fifteen elderly men lived at the hotel, which also was popular with traveling men.

Many guests were forced shivering and half-dressed into the 26-degree cold. Several were routed from their beds and fled down fire escapes and ladders.

The explosion blew out all the windows in the hotel and shattered glass in neighboring buildings. Water from fire hoses froze a coating of ice over streets and sidewalks.

"Everything was just quiet and all of a sudden there was this big explosion—boom," said desk clerk Luther Owens. "It kind of knocked me goofey," he said. Owens said he could see little flame at first, "although some fire licked up with west entrance of the hotel. It was so smokey I couldn't see who got out."

Earl Benson, manager of the Greenville office of Lone Star Gas Co., said the gas was cut off for two blocks in all directions from the hotel at the time of the explosion while 20 men worked on a gas leak.

The explosion, described by most as a "dull thud," was heard at least seven miles from this north Texas city of 20,000.

Ralph Marcom, radio station KGVL newsman here, said one man was blown out of a second-story window into the street. Charley Hall, a Greenville painter sleeping in a rooming house annex adjoining the hotel was knocked from his bed and bruised.

Missing was William Shippey.

Damage was estimated at between $300,000 and $400,000 by Herman Scott editor of the Greenville Herald-Banner.

In the hotel building and badly damaged were a barbershop, Western Union office, an insurance office, a men's shop, cafeteria and news stand.

Greenville is about 40 miles northeast of Dallas, and has more than 15,000 population.

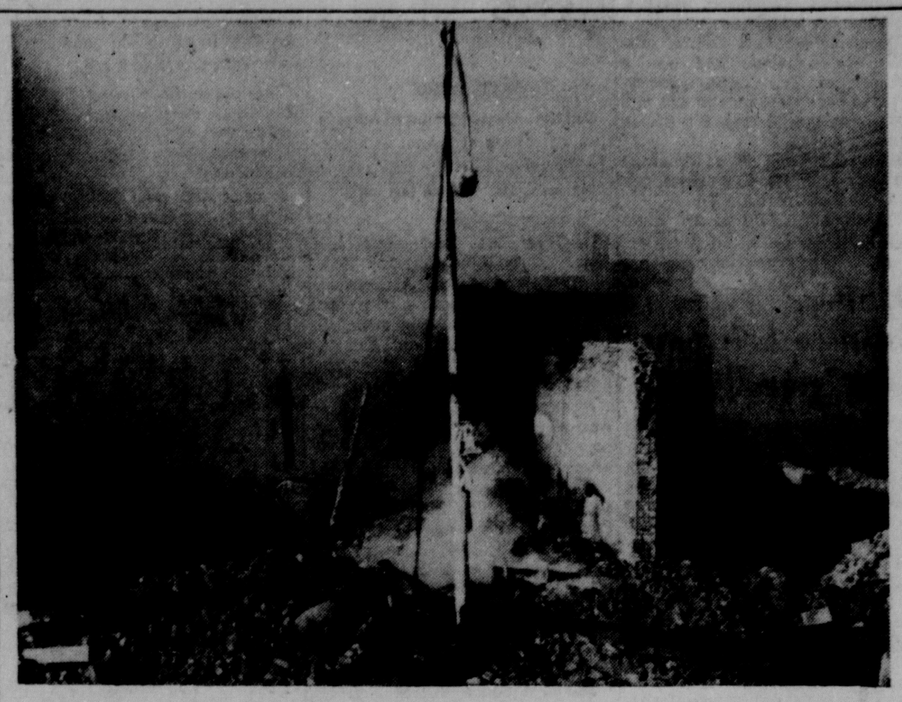

A notation on the police blotter said officers were informed at 3 p.m. yesterday of an order of gas in the neighborhood, and that the gas company was informed. The gas company was working on a leak when the blast occurred.

Many guests fled shivering and half dressed into the 26-degree weather. Several had to be routed from their beds and sent down ladders and fire escapes.

RUINS OF MARSHALL BUSINESS FIRMS—The Democrat-News, the Marshall daily paper, occupied the area on the corner and the Doyle Stationery and Printing Co., in the area to the left, both now burned out rubble. These firms were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin early Thursday morning, while two buildings which are to the south, not shown in the picture, were damaged extensively. The intensity of the heat is noted from the drooping street light fixture in the center. Workers have already started shoving the collapsed brick walls back into the building area, while other men are making necessary wire and telephone repairs.

Farm Bureau Asks End To Price Fix

Farmers Want More Freedom To Decide

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation prepared to close its annual convention today with adoption of a platform calling upon government to begin gradual withdrawal of its crop price-fixing and control programs.

Resolutions set to be acted upon by delegates at today's final sessions called present programs a failure.

The platform would map out a new task for controversial price supports. It would be that of promoting "orderly marketing" in conjunction with operation of the free market factors of supply and demand.

The policy statement said supports have been used to "guarantee unrealistic prices." The result, it said, has been pricing of products out of markets, the encouragement of excess production and the piling up of surpluses at great expense in government hands.

The platform declared that if supports are used for the proposed new purpose, farmers would be enabled to do a better job of meeting competition at home and abroad and of improving their income.

In taking this position, the federation would stand—as it has in recent years—beside Secretary of Agriculture Benson in appealing for less federal intervention into farmers' operations.

Benson, in a talk warmly received by the farm bureau delegates and members, told the convention yesterday that "American agriculture cannot be successfully operated by rigid formula from a desk in Washington."

No Hospital Facilities

Governor Blair Spotlights New Juvenile Code Problem

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A new problem stemming from operation of Missouri's new juvenile code was spotlighted today by Gov. James T. Blair.

He said many circuit judges, who sit as juvenile court judges, are sending juveniles to the state hospitals even though the hospitals have no facilities to care for them.

The governor brought the problem up at his news conference when he made public a letter by Dr. Alfred K. Baur, superintendent of State Hospital No. 1 at Fulton, to all circuit judges.

Dr. Baur said that although the Fulton institution has no facilities to care for juveniles, plans had been made to accept 20 for treatment. But since the new juvenile code went into effect Aug. 29, the number of juveniles has grown to 40, severely taxing the staff and the hospital facilities.

From now on, he said, only juveniles from the 33-county area the hospital serves will be accepted and only then if they have been adjudged delinquent by reason of mental difficulties.

He said custodial cases cannot be accepted.

"If our program here becomes custodial, we will have lost sight of our obligations to the children and to society," Dr. Baur wrote.

The governor said all the state hospitals face the same problem, but the trouble is "the state has no money" to build separate facilities for juveniles.

New buildings scheduled at the Higginsville branch of the Missouri State School for Mental Defectives will take care of some 200 additional children," he said, "but they have a waiting list of over 200."

He did not indicate whether he would make any recommendations along this line in the budget he plans to submit to a special session of the Legislature next month.

Four Are Hurt In Collision Thursday

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in a collision of two automobiles at the intersection of Montgomery and Ninth about 7:40 a.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Anne Raines, 65, of 1520 South Osage, driver of one car, suffered an injury to her right hip, and shock.

Three grandchildren, whom she was taking to Sacred Heart High School and St. Patrick's School, suffered minor hurts.

Wesley Raines, 16, of 920 East Tenth, suffered a head injury and injury to his right hip.

Carol Lee Raines, 9, suffered a bruise on her forehead, and her sister, Janice Kay, 11, a bruised right leg.

They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Max Raines, 920 East Tenth. They were treated at Woodland Hospital by Dr. R. A. Enochs.

Involved was a 1953 Dodge sedan driven west on Tenth by Mrs. Raines and a 1941 Chevrolet tudor sedan driven south on Montgomery by Robert Lee Mabry, 40, of 818 East Fourth. The right front fender and side on the Dodge was damaged and the front end of the Chevrolet damaged. Mabry was not hurt.

The Dodge was unable to stop until it reached the front yard on the southwest corner. The car was towed away by the Bacon wrecker, and the Finnell wrecker towed the Chevrolet away.

Cockroach Powder Is Fatal to Little Boy and Baby Sitter

CHICAGO (AP) — A 54-year-old baby sitter and a 2-year-old boy died, police said, poisoned by cockroach powder that threatened the lives of the boy's two young sisters.

The girls were reported critically ill in a Chicago hospital.

Police said the cockroach powder was mistakenly used for flour in preparing a chicken dinner last night.

The baby sitter, Finis Kittinger, and the boy, Roger Van Horne, both died four hours after eating.

Van Horne's two sisters, Deborah, 3 and Susan, 1, were taken to a hospital.

A hospital official said the children had only slim chances of pulling through.

Newspaper's Plant All Lost

Fire Discovered at 2 A. M. And Blazes for Five Hours

Marshall experienced one of the worse fires in its downtown area early Thursday morning. Two business firms were completely wiped out in the two buildings they occupied and two other buildings were damaged to such an extent they will probably be razed. The fire was just off the northwest corner of the town square, and for several hours threatened an entire block area.

It was about 2 a.m. when Slim Davenport, a taxi driver, noticed smoke coming from the Doyle Stationery and Printing Co. building and he notified the police department. Vernon Hicks, a night patrol officer, said he received the call and went to investigate. As he drove to the rear of the buildings, he saw fire and immediately radioed for the fire department.

The fire was believed to have originated in the basement of the Doyle building, and within an hour after it was discovered had broken through into the offices of the Democrat-News, a daily newspaper.

The fire also spread southward into the building owned by S. L. Potter which housed the National Farm Loan Association and the Production Credit Association, and then to the adjoining building of Henry Stedem, real estate broker. Upstairs, over the Potter-Stedem buildings, were apartments in which three families were residing.

The two fire trucks of the Marshall Department were hurried to the scene and all available firemen were summoned to duty. The local fire department endeavored to confine the blaze to the Doyle and Democrat-News buildings, but when it reached its height about 4 o'clock, attention was turned to trying to save the Potter-Sedem buildings.

As the fire raged in the Doyle and newspaper buildings firemen evacuated the families over the two adjoining buildings. Most of them left in their night clothing, although several succeeded in picking up other warm clothing as they departed. Everything in the apartments on the second floor were practically a total loss.

As the fire became uncontrollable in the Doyle and Democrat-News buildings, a call for additional help was made to Slater and Boonville. Both cities sent a fire truck and five firemen each to Marshall and gave their assistance until about 11 in the morning, when it was certain the fire was under control.

The roofs of the Stedem and Potter buildings were burned through, fire and smoke swept through the second floor apartments, smoke and water damaging the furnishings.

Rosier Hains, owner of the two buildings which housed the newspaper and the Doyle firm, which is a mail order printing company, said the loss to the buildings and to the newspaper, which he also owns, was estimated in excess of $150,000.

Dean H. Doyle was reported to have remarked the losses to his firm in equipment, merchandise and records would be between $75,000 and $80,000.

It was estimated the damage to the Potter and Stedem buildings would reach in the neighborhood of $50,000, while no estimate to the loss of furniture, clothing and other articles was made by occupants of those living quarters.

"Pups," a St. Bernard dog, a Christmas gift three years ago from his employees to Dean H. Doyle, was a victim of the fire. The dog was last seen lying under Doyle's desk when employees closed the shop Wednesday evening.

The Democrat-News will not miss publication, since the paper is being printed at the Slater News-Rustler at Slater. Although only four pages in size it will carry the necessary legal notices and a complete account of the fire. Hains reported the paper would be published there for the next few days until other arrangements can be made to publish ti in its regular size in a larger plant.

Newspapers throughout the area immediately sent word to Hains and his son, Randall, that they were ready to give him any assistance needed.

Hains said they have already started ordering equipment, supplies and other necessities to start work in Marshall. A building will be obtained for this equipment and plans will be to set their newspaper up in forms and send the forms to another paper which will print the paper for them until

Road Contract On Hiway 50 Is Awarded

Job Extends Across Pettis-Johnson Line For Over 7 Miles

A contract for 24-feet wide portland cement concrete pavement on about 7.7 miles of Highway 50 in Johnson and Pettis Counties has been awarded by the State Highway Commission to Koss Construction Co., Des Moines, Ia., under bids received Nov. 27. The improvement, which extends from west of Knob Noster, in Johnson County, east toward LaMonte, in Pettis County, will cost about $942,125.

About 4.3 miles of the work is in Johnson County, with cost thereon to total about $567,962. The remaining 3.4 miles are in Pettis County and cost on that will total about $374,163.

A contract for grading and bridging on the Knob Noster relocation was awarded last January to the J. A. Tobin Construction Co., Kansas City, Kan. That work is costing about $714,156. The grading and bridging contractor still is working on his part of the job and is expected to complete it sometime this winter or early spring.

The paving contractor has been notified he may begin work on his part of the job as of Dec. 30. It is quite probable he will do some grading and possibly lay some base material during the winter with actual paving operations to go forward next spring and summer.

Construction will be carried forward under supervision of the Commission's District 4 office in Kansas City, M. J. Snider, district engineer. W. J. Groves, district construction engineer, will direct the work with George P. Plattenburg of Warrensburg as the resident engineer in active charge.

This Highway 50 improvement project is among others costing $4,402,152 and extending over 93.4 miles of state highways on which the Commission now has completed contracts under bids received Nov. 27. The work extends into 22 counties and the city of St. Louis.

Other major system projects contracted include: 17.8 miles 24-feet wide portland cement concrete pavement on Highway 24 in Jackson and Lafayette Counties; widening three bridge structures and about 0.7 mile grading, base and 24-feet wide asphaltic concrete on Highway 61 in New Madrid and Pemiscot Counties; and a half mile grading and 52-feet wide pavement on Highway 71 Alt. at Neosho, in Newton County.

Two urban projects are in the list. One calls for an additional 0.7 mile grading and variable width pavement on Highway 71 at Neosho; the other calls for traffic signal installations on City Highway 166 in Springfield.

An Interstate project in the City of St. Louis is for installing a 181-foot long pedestrian overpass over the Ozark Expressway at 9th and Carroll Streets.

Supplementary improvements are in these counties: Gentry, Harrison, Crawford, Franklin, Bates, Cedar, McDonald, Jasper, Hickory, Pulaski, Stone, Reynolds, Wright and Ripley.

Dog Only Casualty

Sedalians Are Asked to Fight Tuberculosis

The Missouri State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis is located at Mount Vernon and there is a particular local interest in this place because at the present time there are four patients there from Pettis County. Many, many Pettis Countians have been there through the years as patients and been able to return home to active, normal lives. Some, of course, have died because the disease was not discovered in time.

Christmas seals have played a great part in the declining death rate in tuberculosis and each Christmas speak a message of hope and faith in the fight against tuberculosis. But there is still a big problem of patient education, family, community education and alertness, and so again at this season of the year the little Christmas seals are being sold to brighten letters, Christmas cards and packages. The people of Pettis County are asked to help in this fight against tuberculosis by sending money for the seals to Charles W. Hanley, treasurer, c-o Third National Bank, Sedalia, Mo.

There were 1722 tuberculosis cases reported in Missouri last year. From 1952-56 persons reported as newly active TB totalled 10,634. Others have not yet been found or were found too late. In 1955 there were 404 TB deaths; this year 396 TB deaths.

The Missouri State Sanitorium at Mount Vernon has been a busy place. From July 1956 to June 1957 the total admissions were 1022. The daily patient average was 481; patient days served 176,307; 29 patients were in the 1-10 age group. The average patient age was 50 years, a great increase in the older age group. The sanatorium is now handling annually nearly twice the 1949-50 admissions.

Herbert Seifert is president of the Pettis County Tuberculosis Association and urges all to respond to the need of stamping out this disease by buying Christmas seals.

Christmas Carol Selected As Hymn of Month

The Hymn of the Month has been selected by the National Federation of Women Music Clubs and submitted through the courtesy of Helen G. Steele Music Club. The hymn is "Joy to the World."

Two statues in the Westminster Abbey are connected with a Christmas hymn. One is Issac Watts, 1674-1748, gentle mannered literary genius of the 18th century. The other was George Frederick Handel, 1685-1750, master of the keyboard. The talent of these two combined to produce one of the greatest Christmas carols.

Issac Watts gave to the world many notable hymns. It was in 1719 when he was sitting under a favorite tree on the Abbey estate near London that he wrote this hymn, the paraphrase of a portion of the 98th Psalm. In this work he attempted to make David speak like an English Christian of the 18th century.

Twenty-two years after Watts wrote this hymn George Handel knelt in prayer, asked God to help him do something big. Rising from his knees he worked and prayed continuously for 23 days and nights and came up with his immortal "The Messiah," in 1741. It was in 1836 that Boston choir director-composer Lowell Mason, 1792-1872, re-arranged a portion of Handel's Messiah to fit the hymn Watts wrote in 1790. So tribute is paid to two geniuses every Christmas as we sing this hymn, "Joy to the World."

BUILT FOR CURVES—This strange-looking vehicle is the experimental prototype of a new "pendular" passenger carriage being tested in Paris by the French National Railways. Officials claim that the self-tilting car can whip around curves at 80 miles an hour without spilling food in the diner or affecting riders with sensitive stomachs. The 32-passenger model, which weighs 37 tons, tilts automatically to exactly offset the centrifugal force that would normally throw passengers toward the outside of the curve.

Conflict Over Information Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Moss (D-Calif) took issue with the Pentagon today over restrictions on the authority of federal accounting officials to examine classified information.

Moss, chairman of the House Government Information subcommittee, said the General Accounting Office had objected to the limitations. The congressman has been a frequent critic of government secrecy.

"Unless properly cleared GAO officials have free access to classified defense data, the General Accounting Office cannot fulfill its statutory responsibility for keeping Congress informed on the efficiency and economy with which executive agencies are being operated," Moss said in a statement.

He made public an exchange of letters with Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, and a letter Moss wrote Secretary of Defense McElroy Dec. 9.

Moss said the present controversy started with a "sleeper section" in a Defense Department directive issued last July 8, saying GAO personnel "ordinarily will not have need for access to classified defense information."

The subcommittee chairman said the directive added that no GAO auditor would be granted access to classified defense data until his "need to know" had been established. It also said the comptroller general had agreed to the procedures, Moss said.

Moss wrote Campbell asking what effect such regulations were having on GAO's efforts.

Campbell replied Nov. 20 that the GAO now requires access to classified information in 80 per cent of its Defense Department investigations. Campbell added that the directive is "incompatible with our increased audit efforts."

He said the "need to know" requirements result in "inordinate delays without providing additional safeguards."

Five Burned As Fire Rages; Three Saved

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — Five persons burned to death today when a fire destroyed the Nelson County Infirmary five miles outside this whisky distilling center.

Three other occupants of the building were carried to safety by the superintendent, Parkland Hibbs.

Firemen, fighting the blaze in 10-degree temperature, were hindered by lack of water and by hoses stiffened by the cold.

The superintendent's wife explained the fire apparently started from a defective furnace. Workmen had been called out twice this week to repair it.

The blaze also destroyed a meat house and a wash house adjoining the main two-story building where the patients lived. The eight were the only occupants of the infirmary, used mainly to house elderly people.

The dead were identified as Mary Ellen Ethridge, 82; Alice Weaver, about 65; Mary Ellen Waters, 32, and her mother Ella Waters, about 56; and Thomas Bray, about 65.

Rescued were George Fields, Sam Nevitt, and Marion Smith, all three elderly men.

The Hibbs live just across a driveway from the main building. Hibbs saw the flames shooting from the main building. He called firemen then brought out three patients before the flames cut off all exits.

East Shivers As Cold Wave Moves In

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eastern sections of the country shivered under a tooth-chattering cold wave today, but there were signs the arctic outbreak would lose some of its punch in the mid-continent.

Temperatures skidded as much as 30 degrees overnight from New England to Florida and westward through the Gulf states, and readings in the teens extended as far south as northern portions of Georgia and Alabama.

The mercury was in the 20s along the Gulf coast and temperatures in the 30s were common in central Florida and as far south as extreme southern Texas.

Where the frigid invasion, the season's first big cold wave, maintained a rather steady grip on the Midwest and northern Plains, temperatures were somewhat less severe than subzero lows of Wednesday. The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted a warming trend today for that area.

Locally heavy snow occurred near the southeastern shores of the Great Lakes and in parts of the north Atlantic states. South Bend, Ind., reported an accumulation of 7 inches from more than a day of snows.

In southwestern Lower Michigan, Paw Paw measured up to 16 inches of snow from the last 24 hours, and a fresh fall at Hartford, Conn., brought their total to 5 inches. Newark, N. J., recorded 3 inches.

Strike Cost Cited By Transit Officials

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transit Authority says the subway strike is costing it about $400,000 a day.

The authority said this includes about $250,000 in fares and $150,000 in overtime payments, bonuses and food costs for nonstriking employes.

The authority is feeding 2,500 employes. Yesterday these workers consumed 24,000 sandwiches, 7,500 pieces of pie, 200 gallons of coffee and 35 gallons of milk.

Futuristic Problems

Air Force Creates Special Office on Space War Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has created a special office to look into the futuristic problems of warfare waged in the empty regions of space.

It had in operation today the beginning of a small "Directorate of Astronautics," with officers drawn from the USAF's research and development branch. The new office is assigned the specific job of managing development programs which do not relate to ordinary aircraft operations and missile programs.

A directive signed by Lt. Gen. Donald L. Putt, chief of research and development, said, "The function of this new directorate will be to plan, organize and manage the Air Force programs in astronautics."

It was reported, meanwhile, that President Eisenhower may be urged soon to speed up work in dealing with development of weather control as a defense measure.

Staff representatives of the Advisory Committee on Weather Control said the committee may make such a recommendation in its final report to the President at the end of this month.

The order setting up the new Air Force directorate listed a half dozen projects which are being transferred to that office initially.

The list indicated the programs to be transferred included projects such as the proposed "Big Brother" satellite or space platform which would scan the earth from an orbit high up transmitting data on what was happening around the world

One project listed was the "ballistic missile defense" — apparently referring to the USAF's anti-missile project called "Wizard." This is an attempt to devise a system utilizing ultra long range radar and ballistic missiles to intercept and destroy enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles. It is similar to the "Zeus" project of the Army.

Heading the new directorate is Brig. Gen. Homer, Boushey, a native of San Francisco.

An Army missile expert — Brig. Gen. J. A. Barclay, deputy commander of the Redstone Arsenal in Alabama said in a Washington speech that larger satellites have "tremendous military significance."

He added: "For purposes of continuing reconnaissance over the entire surface of the globe, the ever-seeing eye in outer space is unexcelled."

In a speech prepared for the National Security Industrial Assn. Barclay added that "the airplane, as a weapons system, will give way to the guided missile in the not too distant future."

The spokesman for the Weather Control Advisory Committee indicated they thought the group's report to Eisenhower probably would be devoted mainly to evaluating experiments in controlling weather for peacetime purposes.

But, they added, the report might include this statement made by Dr. Henry Houghton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology: "I shudder to think of the consequences of a prior Russian discovery of a feasible method of weather control. . . . An unfavorable modification of our climate in guise of a peaceful effort to improve Russia's climate could seriously weaken our economy and our ability to resist."

Rep. Ford (R-Mich) said in a statement that the nation would have had a workable ICBM four years ago if former President Truman had not issued an economy order.

Dog Performs Duty But May Lose His Life

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Baron, a 3-year-old German shepherd, had a job to do and he did it. It may cost him his life.

The big black dog lies paralyzed today, felled in the line of duty by a robber's bullet.

For the last three months Baron has "worked" in a liquor store operated in nearby La Mirada by Raymond Baker. His assignment was to attack at command from Baker or his manager Robert Nelson.

Baker bought well-trained Baron from a kennel three months ago after being held up in his store.

Baron and Nelson were behind the counter Tuesday night when a holdup man entered and at gunpoint forced Nelson to give him the money in the cash register.

"As the robber backed toward the front door, I said, 'Get him, Baron,'" Nelson related.

"Baron leaped through the air and the man shot him. I grabbed my pistol beneath the counter and fired. I missed the man's head as he ran out the door. I fired high because I didn't want to hit Baron."

The gunman's bullet lodged near Baron's spine and he was unable to move. Nelson rushed him to a veterinary hospital.

Baron took his guard job seriously, Nelson said:

"He wouldn't have anything to do with anyone except Baker and me," Nelson said. "He wouldn't let the customers pet him. He just stayed on the floor behind the counter, waiting. But he had fun running and playing when we took him out to the vacant lot next door."

The veterinarians are going to wait a couple of days to see if the paralysis goes away. If not, they will operate.

Missile Engine Tried; Proves Successful

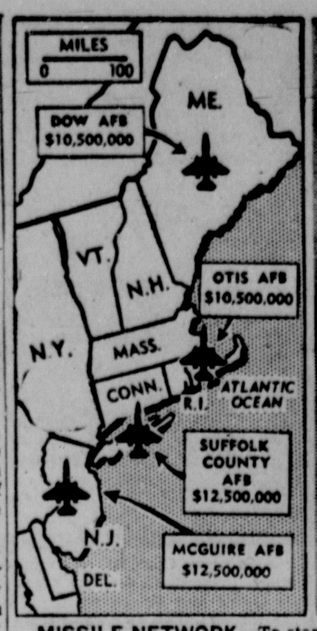

CAPE VANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The engine of the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile was given a tryout yesterday—a possible indication the mighty rocket will be fired from here soon.

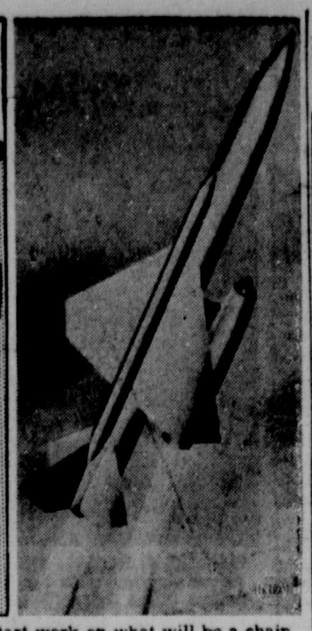

The Air Force said in Washington the engine was put through a static test. It was tied down and run at high thrust to test its performance. Such tests usually precede the actual firing of a missile.

Billows of white smoke were seen by watchers on the beach. It was the second such spectacle in two days. Tuesday's smoke display also may have been caused by an Atlas static firing.

Two unsuccessful efforts have been made to send the Atlas over the 5,500-mile course it is designed to cover. On each occasion, the missile faltered and was destroyed in flight soon after being launched.

Settled in 1764 by French fur traders, St. Louis, Mo., still is the largest raw fur market in the United States.

MISSILE NETWORK—To start work on what will be a chain of about 15 launching sites for its robot interceptor missile, the Bomarc, the Air Force has signed construction contracts totaling 46 million dollars. Newsmap, left, locates the first sites, to be built at existing air bases in four northeastern states. The Bomarc, right, is a pilotless, supersonic missile designed to bring down enemy bombers with atomic explosives at ranges up to 300 miles and as high as 60,000 feet. It will be integrated into the U.S. air defense system.

The eight years of President James Monroe's presidency is known as the "Era of Good Feeling" in American history.

Stage Is Set Four Summit Conference

PARIS (AP)—West European foreign ministers began arriving in Paris today to set the stage for the NATO summit conference next week.

The curtain raiser on the crowded diplomatic bill is a two-day session of foreign ministers from Council of Europe nations. The council, whose aim is to achieve greater unity of its 15 members, will convene tomorrow.

Overlapping this meeting, the seven ministers whose countries are members of the Western European Union will meet Saturday and Sunday.

The NATO heads of government meet Monday through Wednesday. On Thursday the six nations of the new European Common Market and Atomic Agency (Euratom) will get together.

One preliminary began yesterday. NATO's top Military Committee opened a two-day secret meeting to discuss supplying U.S. missiles to European allies, some of whom are reluctant to have them.

Council of Europe members are scheduled to discuss merger with the Organization for European Economic Cooperation recently suggested by an unofficial meeting here of some European leaders.

Membership in the council and OEEC are roughly the same and they deal with many of the same aspects of European cooperation. OEEC was set up in 1948 to coordinate U. S. Marshal Plan aid and has since widened into other economic fields. The council deals with social, cultural, scientific and legal problems as well as economic unity.

The council ministers also will examine prospects of dovetailing the council with such other European groups as the Coal and Steel Community, the Common Market and Euratom.

The ministers also will sign a convention on extradition and another agreement to dispense with passports for travel within Western Europe.

Ministers of the seven WEU nations — France, West Germany, Italy, Britain, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg — are to discuss British army strength in Germany and plans to coordinate arms production. When WEU was established in 1954, Britain pledged to keep on the Continent a sizable military force which she has since cut down and now wants to reduce again.

BIRTHPLACE OF AVIATION—This panoramic air view shows the area near Kitty Hawk, N.C., where the air age had its beginning. The Wright Brothers National Memorial stands atop Kill Devil Hill in the center of the circular roadway. The National Park Service has announced that a new museum commemorating the first successful powered airplane flights in history, made by Orville and Wilbur Wright in 1903, will be built at Kill Devil Hill. The museum will be erected to the right of the monument and a new airstrip will be constructed to the left of the memorial. The dedication of the museum will highlight a special celebration at Kill Devil Hill on Dec. 17, the 54th anniversary of the Wrights' feat.

Answer Club Roll With Bible Verse

The Striped College Homemakers Extension Club met for an all day meeting recently at the home of Mrs. S. G. Monsees with Mrs. Cecil Monsees and Mrs. Mary Ellis assisting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. John Linville. Devotional was given by Mrs. E. C. Stevens.

There were 27 members, two visitors and two children present. Roll call was answered with Bible verses. The two visitors were Mrs. H. Fisher and Mrs. Denzil Fischer. The latter became a new member of the club.

Mrs. Fred Staley Jr. gave the Balanced Farming program.

It was announced Mrs. Lester Patrick was voted in to finish the term of Mrs. G. E. Stevens and Lester Patrick was elected for the full term of two years in the township voting which was recently held at High Point School.

A card was read from one of the club's oldest members, Mrs. Pauline Borchers, who is now living at North Little Rock, Ark.

The club voted to meet at a much earlier date than at the regular time because of so many other holiday entertainments. It was voted to meet Thursday, Dec. 12, at the home of Mrs. Oliver Richwine, Route 1. A grab bag Christmas gift exchange valued at 50 cents. Secret Pals will be revealed and new secret pals drawn at this meeting.

Cain Against Wright Plan For Security

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former Sen. Harry P. Cain (R-Wash) said today "the independence and integrity of our courts will be in jeopardy" if recommendations of the Wright commission on government security become law.

Cain, who was a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board from 1953 to 1956, said the commission headed by Loyd Wright would "run rough shod" over recent Supreme Court decisions which Cain said "speak out in support of the inherent importance of the individual."

In a speech prepared for the Philadelphia chapter of Americans for Democratic Action, Cain said:

Not only does the commission wish (A) to negate the . . . decision which limited the federal employes security program to security-sensitive positions, and (B) to have the Congress invalidate the . . . decision where the Supreme Court held that a defendant is entitled to see the statement given investigative agents by the witnesses against him, but (C) by implication it raises doubts about the trustworthiness and even the loyalty of the court."

The 12-member Wright commission, set up in 1955, last June recommended, among other things, a sweeping revision of the government's loyalty-security program. Wright, a Los Angeles attorney and former president of the American Bar Assn., was chairman of the bipartisan study group.

Barrick Tells Budget Needs Of Children

Harold Barrick was the speaker at Optimist Club meeting Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel, talking on the Crippled Children's Center.

As a result of community cooperation, Barrick said, the Crippled Children's Center is operating on an annual budget of between $16,000 and $17,000. There are seven paid staff members and many volunter helpers, he said. Close to 40 women give a half-day each week to assist with these children.

There are 43 children who are helped, given every service that the Center has facilities to give, Barrick said. There are 22 or 23 children at the Center every day and they are given the type therapy they need. There were 30 children tested by the speech therapist from the schools, and eight returned for treatment. They are taught to walk, to talk, use their hands, and this is not an easy job. It takes patience and love.

Until three years ago, said Barrick, this service could only be obtained in metropolitan areas. No other city the size of Sedalia comes anywhere near providing such a service.

There are still many things needed at the Center. There is a great need for three additional staff members, a social worker to assist in helping in the homes, an occupational therapist and a child psychologist.

A film that was made by Ed Zalin, who spent many hours in the making, was presented by Mrs. Rudolph Swope, director at the Center. The film shows the children going to the Center and the many things they do while there. It starts with the nursery children, who are being taught to feed themselves, finger painting, building things and many things these little folks must learn the hard way.

They are even taught how to open and close doors of cabinets and other things found around the home. This equipment was donated by a 4-H club.

Then there are the kindergarten children who are trying to learn to write, to count with the aid of their fingers or peg boards, to color pictures.

The pictures continue with the older children, the progress they make in the things they are learning to do—slowly, of course, but there is definite progress. They are taught to play with big balls which they love to do, are taken to the swimming pool in warm weather where each has a member of the Red Cross group taking care of him in the water. One little boy has learned to swim, another to dive.

Then, at the close of the day they are taken home. It has not only been a little step closer to a normal life, but it has been an association with other children and other people.

The picture is well filmed and well put together. The voice that tells the story is that of Jimmie Glenn.

Barrick presented Mrs. Virginia Flower, president of the board.

The speaker was introduced by Donald Coe, program chairman.

The meeting was conducted by Claude Boul, president, with invocation by the Rev. James Schrader. Charles Hanna led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Guil Flores was introduced as a guest.

Real Estate Board Holds Installation

The Central Missouri Real Estate Board held its annual Anniversary and installation of officers party Wednesday evening at the Old Missouri Homestead. A smorgasbord dinner was enjoyed by 115 members, their families and guests, from Pettis, Saline, Lafayette, Howard, Cooper, Chariton and Carroll Counties who attended the meeting.

Herb Studer, area director for the Federal Housing Administration, was the speaker of the evening. He spoke on "The Present Loan Situation Under FHA." He pointed out that pegging VA loans at a low interest rate had failed to attract investment capital and as a result FHA loans at a slightly higher rate of interest had grown in volume during the past year. He stated the greatest market at the present time in this area appeared to be in the $9,000 to $12,000 homes, because of the low down payment required on homes in this price class and the higher percentage FHA loan value.

The meeting was presided over by Tyree Barnett, Odessa, outgoing president of the Central Missouri Real Estate Board. He introduced Al Elam, Lake Ozark, Mo., president of the Missouri Real Estate Association, who installed the newly elected officers: Harold B. Swinger, Marshall, president, Sam Jewitt, Boonville, vice-president, and Miss Nell Iman, Slater, secretary. Miss Iman succeeds herself, and has been secretary of the Central Missouri Board since the beginning of the organization in December, 1946.

Chester Wolfe, Columbia, formerly of Sedalia, secretary of the Missouri Real Estate Association, was presented and he spoke briefly about the progress and growth of the state organization during the past year.

Miss Iman in a brief secretary's report stated the membership of the Central Missouri Board had increased over 10 per cent during the past year and that attendance had been exceptionally good at all eight meetings held during the year. She called attention to the fact that Kennie Miller, of Sedalia, had been elected to the board of directors of the state association during the past year.

Aaron Smith, Sedalia, a past president of the Central Missouri Board, presented Tyree Barnett, retiring president, with a desk set as a gift from the membership. Barnett presented a gift to Miss Iman and complimented her upon her work as secretary. Gifts were presented by Miss Iman to Mrs. Al Elam, Mrs. Chester Wolfe and Mrs. Herb Studer.

Attending the meeting from Sedalia were: Mr. and Mrs. Kennie Miller and daughter, Myrna Lee; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Farris, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Muller, Mrs. Quincy Morgan, Dick Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wilson, Phil Burford, Bob George, Miss Hazel May, Mrs. Mattie Switzer and Mrs. Edith Rissler.

they can rebuild and get in their own presses.

Some of the records were saved by firemen and volunteers, but many valuable records were consumed by the flames. All of the equipment was destroyed. The newspaper also handled job printing in another section on the second floor, they also have their own photo-engraving plant, all which was lost.

Rosier Hains stated he plans to rebuild as soon as the site can be cleared and work started. However, in the meantime the paper will be printed by other newspapers until they can move back to their "old stand" in a new, modern-equipped plant.

When the fire spread into the Potter-Stedem buildings, the occupants of all the hotel rooms in the Viking Hotel were awakened and left their rooms. Firemen pulled two lines of hose to the top of the hotel building and from there poured water onto the roof of the buildings to the north, keeping the fire drenched and the flames from jumping across the 10-foot walkway to the hotel building.

So intense was the heat from the fire that windows in buildings across Lafayette Street to the east were broken out, paint on the buildings was blistered. This damage resulted to the following buildings from Marion street south on Lafayette: Sears Roebuck Co., Gus's Cafe, Missouri State Employment Service, Sarley's Restaurant, and Jones Real Estate Office.

The newspaper set up temporary offices in the Jones Real Estate office and will be operating from there for several days. Stories have been written there and telephoned to Slater for setting.

"It's inconvenient, but we'll get the job done," John Hall, city editor of the newspaper, reported.

Hall stated two electric typewriters and an electric adding machine were saved, along with the mailing list.

The Democrat-News also publishes a weekly newspaper, The Saline County Citizen.

It was 4:30 a.m. when power was shut off to that area of the town, shutting off electric service, which in turn cut off the power for the Marshall police radio. The Marshall police were just calling for Boonville's fire truck when the power was cut.

However, enough of the message was obtained by the State Highway Patrol radio net that the message was relayed to Jefferson City, then to Boonville, and within seconds the truck was making its run to Marshall.

However, enough of the message was obtained by the State High-

The fire was announced definitely under control about 6 o'clock in the morning, but the visiting firemen on duty helped the tired Marshall firemen up until shortly before 11 a.m. before starting their journey back to their own towns and stations.

Visits Defense Center

LANDSTUHL, Germany (AP) — Defense Secretary Neil McElroy visited the nerve center of the U.S. air defenses in Europe today.

He watched the simulated firing of a Matador guided missile and the takeoff of two F86D jet fighters under emergency, five-minute alert conditions.

Fire Safety Institute Is Conducted Today

Sponsored by the Missouri Division of Health, the Sedalia Fire Department and the University of Missouri Extension Division, a Fire Safety Institute is being held in Sedalia today at the District Health office, 1806 West Broadway.

The program is for all employees and operators of nursing homes and hospitals in Pettis and Morgan Counties. The first session was at 2 p.m. and another will be held at 8 o'clock tonight.

New Hunting, Fishing Licenses Will Be Sold Beginning Dec. 20

New hunting and fishing licenses have arrived at the Pettis County courthouse and will go on sale Dec. 20, County Clerk Jim Green said today.

The 1958 resident fishing license fee will be the same as it has for the past few years, Green said, but there have been some changes made in the non-resident division.

Resident fishing license fee will be $2.25, resident hunting license $3.25, or both for $5.25. Non-resident fishing license will cost $5.25 for the year, or $3.25 for a ten-day trip permit. Non-resident hunters must pay $20.25.

Woodland Hospital Meets Standards For Registration

Sedalia's Woodland Hospital has met the required standards for registration by the American Osteopathic Association.

The AOA granted the recognition at a mid-year meeting of its board of trustees. The board acted on the hospital inspection report and recommendation of the AOA Bureau of Hospitals.

The Sedalia hospital was one of about 100 osteopathic hospitals in the United States to receive the rating.

To gain registration by the AOA, a hospital must pass successfully an annual inspection. The purpose of the inspection is to determine that the hospital meets standards of good patient care and sanitation and that its physical plant is suitable for hospital use. In addition it must comply with all laws of the city and state governing hospital operation.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—More damage was done to Lower Rio Grande Valley fall vegetable crops and to citrus by an overnight general freeze with temperatures as low as 24 degrees.

Tenant House Burns; Eight Persons Die

ELABELL, Ga. (AP)—Eight persons perished in a fire that swept a rural tenant house in subfreezing weather today.

Deputy Sheriff L. R. Lanier identified the dead, all Negroes, as Mary Lee Burroughs, 40, her six children, and her father, Pete Dixon, 75.

Her husband, Anderson Mays, 46, and a 13-year-old daughter escaped. The father was seriously burned and hospitalized. The daughter was unharmed.

The temperature was 20 degrees above zero, unusually cold for southern Georgia.

Craze Arises For Fancy Dress Parties

LONDON (AP)—London as 1957 draws to an end is the kind of town where formal balls, banquets, theater and dinner parties have given way to a high society craze for fancy dress shindigs.

Two great successes were in the subway.

A dozen or so debutantes, many high-born gents dressed as lowbrows, and scores of scruffily dressed Cambridge graduates—30 persons altogether—chased up and down subway escalators beneath Piccadilly Circus. Then they held a human fox hunt, complete with hunting horns, along train platforms.

The other underground soiree featured an eight-piece hillbilly band, called a skiffle group. The rollification and joilification switched from train to train, lasted for hours and ended without a fight. The participants were dressed in castoff clothes.

Subway authorities viewed the goings-on tolerantly. So long as no damage was done to public property the young things were given their heads.

It is now considered chic in London to give "Victorian" dress parties; or to require your guests to dress up in sailor's oilskins; have women guests dress as famous personalities, past or present.

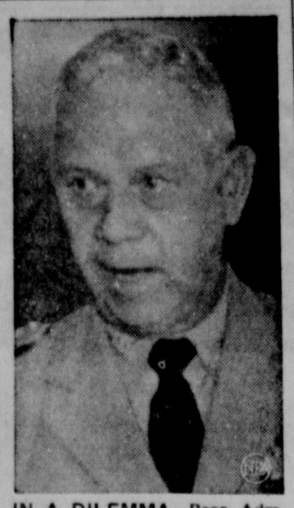

This creates such anomalies as John Wesley shaking a leg with Madame Du Barry.

People dress up essentially because they want to change their identity," says Dr. Ellis Stungo, a psychiatrist.

"Inhibitions go by the board," said another psychiatrist.

But one young lady at a recent masquerade, dressed something like Lady Godiva, said:

"Anything for a change. We just get sick of looking at each other the way we really are."

IN A DILEMMA—Rear Adm. George J. Dufek, commander of the U.S. Navy's Operation Deepfreeze III, says he will start making plans to abandon all U.S. bases in Antarctica unless he receives new orders within eight weeks. Interviewed at McMurdo Sound, Antarctica, Dufek said a lack of instructions from Washington on the future of the U.S. program for the icebound continent has placed him in a dilemma.

L. Kenyon Jr. Scores High In Scholarship Test

Scholarships worth $4 million and the highest academic honors were one step closer for 7,500 of America's brightest high school seniors today, as the National Merit Scholarship Corporation announced the semifinalists in its 1958 competition. The honored students outscored some 300,000 fellow seniors on the Scholarship Qualifying Test, a college aptitude examination given in 14,000 high schools on Oct. 22.

Among the semifinalists was Latham Kenyon, Jr., of California, Mo., High School.

The group of 7,500 semifinalists represent about one-half of one per cent of the national senior class, and is composed of the students with the highest test scores in each state, prorated according to high school senior population.

Merit Scholarships are sponsored by over 60 business and industrial firms, as well as by professional societies, foundations, and even individuals.

The semifinalists now face a rigorous, three-hour college board examination, to be given in testing centers throughout the country on Jan. 11. Students whose high scores substantiate their earlier test performance will become Finalists in the competition.

Jack Parlance Sued For Battery Damages By News Cameraman

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Jack Palance, sued for $15,116 battery damages by a newspaper photographer, has filed an answer charging that the cameraman was the aggressor.

George T. O'Day, 45, of the evening Herald-Express, claimed the actor struck him when O'Day tried to photograph Palance last Sept. 6 at a separate maintenance suit filed by Mrs. Virginia Baker Palance.

But the 37-year-old actor said in his answer that O'Day threatened him, put him in fear of bodily injury and caused him instinctively to ward off possible blows. Palance also contended that O'Day thrust a camera into his face and a flash bulb exploded near his eyes.

Following the contributive dinner Mrs. Mary Fairfax presided over the meeting. Gifts were exchanged and secret pals revealed. Names for new secret pals were drawn.

Senator Asks That Ike Repair NATO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said today President Eisenhower faces the job in Paris of making NATO into a "going concern" instead of "a symbol of defense."

Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, returned from a European survey with the stated conviction that the North Atlantic Trreaty Organization is disintegrating.

Sen. Green (D-RI), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said his observations in Europe indicated to him that NATO is not falling apart. But he said Eisenhower ought to provide some dramatic demonstration of leadership at the Paris conference to give the alliance new life.

Mansfield said he thinks Eisenhower's presence is likely to spur the forthcoming NATO summit conference to greater efforts toward unifying and expanding the West's defenses. But Mansfield said in an interview the job of making NATO effective is going to be difficult.

"The President still has a great amount of prsetige in Europe," he said. "But he is going to have to get down to bedrock with our allies. NATO can't continue to exist as a symbol of defense and not a shield.

"The President has got to see that it is made a going concern. He has got to see that it becomes a really mutual defense organization."

Eisenhower will fly to Paris tomorrow for the three-day NATO meeting opening Monday.

Sen. Mansfield expressed the hope that at that conference Eisenhower "will insist on the establishment of a NATO scientific pool which will bring together the collective talents of the Western nations as the first step in remaking the organization."

Bryan Gets Spot On All-State Team

Bill McDowell Gets Honorable Mention

Tiger Stars Get State-Wide Honors After CMC, District

The Missouri Sportscasters and Sportwriters Association has added a story book finish to Marshall Bryan's brilliant high school football career by naming him to one of the backfield posts on Missouri's 1957 All-State first team. Bill McDowell, a guard on the All-District eleven, was the only other Smith-Cotton player to gain state-wide recognition, being awarded Honorable Mention.

Bryan, Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow's bread-and-butter ball carrier, was previously named to the all-star squad in the Central Missouri Conference, in addition to a first team slot in the All-District selection. A senior, Bryan is a member of the National Forensic League, the scholastic honor society which requires a grade average of "S" or better. Since the close of the football season, he has turned to basketball and is a starter on Coach Howard Glavin's starting unit at S.-C.

Bryan plans to attend a small college next fall, but has made no definite plans at this time.

Thumbnail Sketches of First Team All-State Players for 1957

LARRY ALLEN—This lithe 6-1, 175-pound end was the heart of Kansas City Central's Interscholastic League champion Blue Eagles. He was the top pass catcher in the area and also an excellent blocker and defender. He caught 26 passes for 582 yards in seven league games. A shoestring catch in the end zone with 44 seconds left to play climaxed a come-from-behind victory over Southwest in the title game.

BOB BUKOWSKY—A 6-2, 180-pounder, Bukowsky was the top offensive end in Southwest Missouri, catching 31 passes for 597 yards, including 12 touchdowns. Although playing on club which had a powerful rushing attack, he totaled nearly 1000 yards and scored 21 touchdowns in two years. As a punter he averaged 25.7. Earned third letter and was tough on defense where he brought down 48 opposing ball-carriers, third high on team. Club had 9-0 record this year, 9-1 last year, won Mineral Area Conference crown both seasons. Also plays center on basketball team.

GERALD HEIL—A 210-pound guard, he was referred to as the "One-man Gang" and drew high praises from opposing coaches. Despite his size, he was one of the quickest players in the area. Delegated as a third team all-state tackle as a junior, he was largely responsible for Norborne's undefeated season, and was a devastating blocker and tackler.

ALLEN CLARK—The 200-pound tackle accomplished 55 per cent of the Gower tackles on defense to spark the club to the Northwest Missouri Eight title with a 6-0 record. A hard charger, Clark also anticipated opposing plays and was tough offensively, besides anchoring the defensive alignment. He kicked off for the club, usually into the end zone.

GREG DAVIS—The sparkplug of St. Mary's Catholic Athletic Conference champions, Davis used his 228 pounds to excellent advantage. Was credited with 41 unassisted tackles and continually broke in to harass opposing passers. Offensively, team averaged 7.2 yards a play on his side of the line in 78 plays. Co-captain of the team, he also kicks off. St. Mary's had 8-2 record.

ELVIN BASHAM—No. 1 tackler for North Kansas City, the 5-11, 175-pound guard used his speed and aggressiveness to clear the path for his backfield mates. Undoubtedly the outstanding lineman in the area, he was nicknamed "Mash 'Em" because of his prowess on the line. Team went undefeated and gave up only two touchdowns.

JON STONE—Only junior to make the first team, Stone was the middle linebacker for the Central Panthers and led the team in tackles. Fast and agile for his size—he's 6-2, 205—he was especially adept at wedging opposing linemen to make the quarterback, sneak play a sure ground gainer. Very strong, a steady ball snapper and topnotch pass defender he also called defensive signals. In addition, he scored two touchdowns. Was an all-district choice two years, making club as a sophomore.

MARSHALL BRYAN—This three-year letterman scored 106 points to pace Sedalia Smith-Cotton. Small in comparison with many other, the 5-8, 160-pounder averaged nine yards a carry, plus picking up 301 more yards on kickoff and punt returns, passes and interceptions, and completed three passes for 30 yards. Carried ball 131 times for 1177 yards.

JACK RICHARDSON—A team leader, Richardson was the main ball-carrier for a Cameron team which won all 10 games and extended its winning streak to 33 games. The 5-11, 165-pound halfback scored 20 touchdowns and passed for seven more as the signal-caller for a spinner offense. Has excellent breakaway speed, averaged 7.2 yards per carry. Also a fine blocker.

JERRY HINCHEY—Considered one of the finest all around players in the Southwest district, Hinchey averaged 11.6 yards for 91 atempts, plus 136 yards on passes. He threw two touchdowns passes, and scored 18 TDs, two on long kickoff returns. A sensational punter, he averaged 41.2 on 25 bots and is rated a noutstanding defensive back. Was honorable mention all-state last year.

NORMAN BEAL—Easily the No. 1 votegetter in the St. Louis area, Beal triggered the Normandy offense and was rated as one of best and surest tacklers in the St. Louis area. He scored 42 points and averaged 7.3 yards a carry as the Vikings won the tough Suburban Big Six League title and finished with an 8-1 record for all games. He saved as many touchdowns as he scored with his defensive ability, despite weighing only 165 pounds. The 5-10 sprinter is a left-handed passer, and completed 40 per cent of his tosses, including two for touchdowns. Also a tremendous punter with a 45-yard average.

Bitter Match Turns Into Yankee Rout

BRISBANE (AP)—A fighting comeback victory by Herbie Flam, the nervous, sleepless recluse who almost didn't make it, and a grim workmanlike straight set sweep by veteran Vic Seixas sent the United States into a 2-0 lead over Belgium today in the Interzone Davis Cup Finals.

Thus the bitter match, which threatened to shut America out of the Challenge Round for the first time in 21 years, turned into a Yankee rout. The United States was expected to clinch the tie in tomorrow's doubles.

First, Flam, whose appearance on the court was uncertain until the very final moments, won a marathon from Belgium's Jackie Brichant 6-3, 4-6, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3. Then Seixas, playing the 55th Davis Cup match of his career, smashed the classy Philippe Washer into quick submission 6-0, 6-3, 6-4.

America sends Seixas and 44-year-old Gardnar Mulloy of Miami against the seasoned team of Washer and Brichant tomorrow in the doubles.

Flam's surprise victory sent a wave of joy through the American camp.

The match was a unique one which saw Flam apparently keen and eager to win the first set and take a 4-1 lead in the second set with a 40-30 lead on service in the sixth.

At this point Flam's game went into a mysterious collapse while the Belgian champion gained in force and confidence. Flam proceeded to lose 12 of the next 13 games and drop service seven times in a row.

It was not until the third game of the fourth set that the Beverly Hills, Calif., player was able to hold service and this, he said later, was the turning point of the match.

"I was still behind but I knew then I would win," Flam said. "I told Captain Bill Talbert I would do it."

Flam won the last five games in a row to capture the fourth set and level the match, then after dropping the first two games of the fifth put on another spurt, winning another five straight.

"I don't know what happened to me in the middle of the match," Flam said. "My mind went blank and my legs got rubbery. I was very tired. But when I took a cold shower at the intermission I felt I could do it."

California, Versailles To Semi-Finals

Seeded One-Two In Tipton Tourney, They Win Decisively

California and Versailles, seeded one-two in the 19th Annual Tipton Invitational Basketball Tournament, roared into the semi-finals last night by scoring decisive victories over two other Tri-County Conference quintets. California shattered the School of the Osage, 65-46, and the Versailles Tigers smacked down the host Tipton Cardinals, 56-42.

In a consolation game, the "B" team of Smith-Cotton out played Houstonia for a 50-39 victory. Nicky Nichols was the big gun in S-C attack with 22 counters, followed by Vedder with 10. Larry Pummill tanked 14 and Ray Dean Haley got 12 to lead the Shamrocks. After trailing 13-12 after the end of the first quarter, Smith-Cotton moved into the lead for keeps with a 16-point surge in the second stanza.

California's sharp-shooting Pintos posted their seventh win of the season without a setback against the Osage Indians. Eddie Hert, a 6-foot junior, led the Pinto attack with 20 points. Dick Miller topped the Indians' scoring with 14. California took no chances and built up a 21-7 first period lead before easing the pace.

Versailles' well balanced scoring machine out distanced the anxious Tipton Cardinals from the start. Galin Pyle pushed in 15 points to pace the victors and teammates John Belcher and Don Eckhoff contributed 15 and 14 points, respectively.

Tonight's games feature the once beaten Smithton Tigers against the Lincoln University Kittens of Jefferson City and the undefeated New Bloomfield Wildcats against the Eldon Mustangs, losers of only one game, in the quarter-finals of the championship bracket. In a consolation tilt, Jamestown vies with the Tipton "B" team.

Smith - Cotton's "B" team will make its next tourney appearance against the Hubbard Tigers at 10 p.m. Friday.

Tourney semi-finals will be played Friday night and the championship will be decided Saturday night. The 15-team meet is being held in Tipton's new gymnasium which has a seating capacity of about 2,000.

Durelle Wins Over Luedee In Tampa Bout

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Yvon Durelle, who wants a shot at Archie Moore's light heavyweight crown, will have to show more than he did against Jerry Luedee last night to be a threat to the aging champ.

The Canadian fisherman, now ranked No. 3 among the challengers by the NBA, punched out a convincing victory over the willing youngster from New Haven, Conn.

But Durelle was far from championship caliber in winning a unanimous 1-round decision.

He connected repeatedly with solid smashes to the head and body without ever having the unranked Luedee in real trouble. He staggered Luedee a couple of times and shook him up time and again but that was all.

Luedee kept wading in, throwing punches from all angles, but few of them landed cleanly.

At 174¾ pounds Durelle was much the stronger of the two and kept control of the action all the way. Luedee came in at 172.

Luedee suffered small cuts in the mouth and over his left eye but they did not appear to bother him.

Free Throws, Zone Defense Do the Trick

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Zone defense and free throws, a pair of weak sisters in this hurry-up-and-shoot era of college basketball, got the job done more often then not last night with Mississippi State blending the combination to stay unbeaten.

The Maroons (4-0) kept Memphis State's hot-shots outside and bagged 22 of 28 attempts from the foul line for a 56-54 victory. It was the lowest total for Memphis State in 90 games.

Wake Forest's zone caused all sorts of trouble for Texas A&M and the Deacon's belted the Frogs 68-46 for another impressive intersectional victory by an Atlantic Coast Conference team. In conference play, North Carolina State bounced back from Tuesday's upset by Clemson for an 86-73 decision over South Carolina.

West Virginia rapped Penn State 84-50; St. Francis (Pa), making the most of 57 free throw chances, defeated St. Joseph's (Pa) 91-86; Syracuse got past Columbia 55-50; Illinois made it 3-0 with a 91-75 job on Butler; and Michigan breezed past South Dakota State 95-55.

St. Francis, which upset Duquesne the last time out, was outshot 33-25 from the field, but hit on 41 free throws. The other half of the Philadelphia doubleheader saw LaSalle hit 65 per cent from the floor in the first half and 52 for the game in an 82-74 victory over Lafayette. For all the sharp-shooting, however, the Explorers trailed 32-28 in field goals, using 26 of 38 foul tries to do the job.

Florida stayed unbeaten with a 71-70 victory over Florida State. Miami (Fla.) won a 73-65 decision over Louisiana State.

Penn's Cagers, shaken up but not injured when their bus skidded into a tree en route to the Swarthmore fieldhouse, ran up a 98-53 victory. Once beaten Connecticut was held to a 33-33 halftime tie by winless Rutgers, but pulled away with ease for a 73-63 decifoul shots. Army defeated Lesion. Navy, outshot from the field, gained a 61-50 victory when Delaware converted only eight of 25 high 64-51 and Holy Cross, with free throws making the difference defeated Amherst 55-52.

Oregon defeated San Jose State 62-53 and New Mexico A&M beat College of Pacific 76-74, holding off a COP rally in the last 3 minutes.

Records Set In NL Field By Two Men

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roy McMillan of the Cincinnati Redlegs and Roy Campanella of the Dodgers established National League fielding records and the Redlegs tied a club mark in 1957.

This was disclosed today with the release of the official fielding averages.

McMillan made only 16 errors at shortstop while leading his position with a .977 mark. The old record was 18 miscues by Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn in 1949.

Campanella played in 10 games. It was the ninth season in which the burly catcher reached the century mark and he moved past Gabby Hartnett and Al Lopez with whom he shared the standard. Campy led with a .993 average, two points higher than Cincinnati's Ed Bailey.

The other individual leaders were first baseman Frank Torre of Milwaukee, second baseman Jim Gilliam of Brooklyn, third baseman Don Hoak of Cincinnati, outfielder Ken Boyer of St. Louis and pitcher Larry Jackson of the Cards.

The Redlegs fielded a collective .982, tying the mark set by the Cards in 1944 and later equalled by the 1952 Dodgers. Cincinnati made only 107 miscues in 5,843 chances.

Road Trip Still On, Says Colorado Board

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — Dr. Arthur F. Reynolds, chairman of Colorado State's Athletic Board of Control, said today it is unlikely any change will be made in the Louisiana road trip.

The basketball team departs Saturday. Oliver Bell, the Bears' senior Negro forward, will be left behind because of Louisiana segregation laws, Coach John Bunn said.

Games are scheduled with Tulane Dec. 16, McNeese Dec. 17 at Lake Charles, La., and Centenary Dec. 18 at Shreveport.

A resolution approved by the athletic board Tuesday forbids Colorado State from scheduling any future games with schools which practice racial segregation. The board has eight faculty members and four students.

Later, the student council passed a motion urging that next week's games in Louisiana be cancelled. Reynolds said it was considered too late, however, to change the current schedule.

Cole Camp Adds Another Victory To Its String

The undefeated Cole Camp high school basketball team continued its undefeated string Tuesday night, making Knob Noster the eleventh victim this season, 81-63. Cole Camp zoomed into an 18-7 first quarter lead and was never headed by the Johnson Countians.

In the B game, Cole Camp fought off a fourth quarter Knob Noster rally to take a 45-39 decision. Cole Camp led 20-13 at the half. Miesner and lange led Cole Camp with 22 and 16 points, respectively. Galloway and Helms tallied eight apiece for the Knob Noster B team.

Sophomores Take Share Of the Glory

The Associated Press

Sophomores accounted for two of the four outstanding individual feats of the 1957 college football season and Ohio State's Bob White did the greatest job.

That was the consensus of 65 sports writers and editors casting votes in the annual Associated Press postseason poll.

White, carrying the offensive load usually handled by the injured Don Clark, almost singlehandedly led Ohio State's Buckeyes into the Rose Bowl with a tremendous one-game performance against Iowa.

Dick Christy, North Carolina State's All America back, came in second while sophomore Bob Anderson of Army tied with Heisman Trophy winner John Crow of Texas A&M for third place.

The balloting on this question in the AP questionnaire was scattered as the experts in various sections were impressed by the feats they saw themselves. But White's one-game performance drew nine votes, Christy six and Crow and Anderson four each.

White, a bench warmer most of the season, outgained the entire Iowa team when he was called upon in a clutch. He ran for 157 yards on 22 carries and when the Buckeyes started their final drive for a touchdown that produced a 17-13 victory, White gained all but three of the 65 yards and made the winning touchdown.

Christy's big day came against South Carolina, when he scored every point and wound up by kicking the winning field goal after time had expired. N. C. State won 29-26.

Crow's biggest day, came against Southern Methodist. He was virtually the whole A&M offense, but almost every comment was that he was even greater on defense.

Torpid Is Named the Harness Horse of Year by Writers

Torpid, Max Hochberg's mercury-footed Irvington, N.J., pacer, has been named Harness Horse of the Year in the annual poll of U.S. Trotting Association.

The son of Knight Dream registered an overwhelming victory, collecting 734 points on a 10-5-3-2-1 basis with runnerup Galophone earning 213. Torpid received 66 of the first place votes.

Torpid, who won 19 of his 22 starts this year, was also designated Three Year Old Pacer of the Year with 76 votes in that category against three for Meadowlands. Other divisional champions were:

Two Year Old Trotter: Yankee Lass, Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky.; Three Year Old Trotter: Hickory Smoke, Sheppard & Mudge, Hanover, Pa.; Aged Trotter: Galophone, W. T. Maybury, Dexter, Me.; Two Year Old Pacer: Corsican, Robert Metzner, Albany, N.Y., and Aged Pacer: Diamond Hal, S. A. Camp Farms, Shafter, Calif.

Torpid, who succeeds the two-time (1955-1956) champion, Scott Frost, banked $113,000 this year and won two legs of pacing's Triple Crown. He knocked off the $72,000 Little Brown Jug and the $66,952 Cane Futurity but was drawn from the third leg, the $100,000 Messenger, after suffering a nosebleed in a qualifying heat.

The New Jersey sidewheeler rattled off 16 straight successes before meeting his first defeat in September. In the three times he did not win he was once second and twice third. He also posted nine race miles in 2:00 or faster, the most in that category ever registered by a horse in a single season.

Torpid was bred by Hochberg, a lawyer and accountant who has been in harness racing less than ten years. The colt was voted Two Year Old Pacer of the Year in 1956 and was third to Scott Frost in Horse of the Year battling.

Rounding out the top five behind Torpid and Galophone were Yankee Lass (149), Hickory Smoke (135), and Belle Acton (71).

Torpid was not at the Grand Circuit races during the return of the circuit to the Missouri State Fair in 1957, but Good Counsel, who ranked sixth, was stabled here during the week. However, Good Counsel did not race due to lameness which affected the horse at the time of the Hambletonian Review.

Hoot Song and Charming Barbara who placed eighth and tenth respectively, ran in the Grand Circuit races here the past year.

Third Annual Sanford Open Has Records

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—The third annual $15,000 Sanford Open golf tournament claimed two records before a ball had been hit in today's competition.

1. The starters' list showed 150 names, most yet for this event.

2. This will be the coldest Sanford Open so far—and the people in this central Florida town hope that record will never so much as be approached again.

The predicted low this morning was in the mid-20's, mighty chilly in these normally mild parts. The shivery temperatures —a high of 43 was forecast—and stiff biting winds expected to linger several days.

The tournament will be played over the 8,140 yard Mayfair Golf course, which has a par of 36-34—70.

There was no clear-cut pre-tournament favorite in the field of 135 professionals and 15 amateurs. Both former winners, Al Balding and Mike Fetchick, are trying for top money again. Balding, a Canadian now registering out of Miami Beach, won the 1955 inaugural—his first PGA victory in the United States.

Fetchick, from Yonkers, N.Y., won last year with a 283—lowest score for a PGA 71 hole event during 1956.

The field includes the reigning Masters champion, Doyg Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., and the PGA titlist, Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La.

The field will be trimmed to the 60 low scoring pros and the low 10 amateurs plus ties, for the final 36 holes.

Michigan Coach Spurns Big Bid For Texas Post

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Duffy Daugherty has decided that his "roots are too deep at Michigan State" to leave it for a reported $60,000-a-year offer to become head coach and athletic director at Texas A&M.

The Spartan mentor said, in Chicago, he turned down the bid by long-distance telephone yesterday. Afterwards, he told newsmen: "I didn't feel I could go down there with half of me staying here. My heart would still be at Michigan State."

Daugherty, who took over as head coach at MSU in 1954, reportedly deliberated on the offer since Monday noon when he conferred with Texas A&M officials about the position vacated when Bear Bryant quit to become head coach at Alabama.

The 42-year-old Daughtery, whose Spartans had an 8-1 record in 1957 while finishing third in the AP poll, said he did not use the Texas offer to bargain for a bigger salary at MSU.

"As far as I know, my salary is the same," said Daugherty, who receives an estimated salary of between $23,00 and $25,000 a year at MSU.

Claiborne Interested In Missouri Post

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Jerry Claiborne, newly named assistant to Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant at Alabama, said he is interested in the head coaching job at Missouri, but he denied applying for the job.

Claiborne was questioned last night about published reports that he personally had applied for the head coaching job vacated when Frank Broyles left Missouri to become head coach at Arkansas.

The former Missouri assistant coach, who was hired away by Bryant as his assistant at Alabama, emphasized that he is happy in his new job, but left no doubt he would consider a head coaching assignment.

Ev Shelton, veteran basketball coach, is in his 18th season with the University of Wyoming quintet.

Syracuse and Colgate began their football rivalry back in 1891. Colgate won, 22-16.

GOES TO HIS HEAD—Wayne Jones of Texas Western seemed to have a basketball for a head during action at Wichita. Seemingly a bit exercised about it were Ev Wessel, left, of the home forces and the visitors' Jon Sanders.

Western Auto Beats LaMonte Team 62-51

A fast Western Auto squad edged out a LaMonte team 62-51 in a close game played at Horace Mann gymnasium Wednesday night.

Hodges was high scorer for the Western Auto team with 27 points, trailed by Seifner with 16.

High men for the LaMonte squad were Lyons, 14; Peavis, 10, and Wells, 8. Birdsong officiated.

Score by quarters:

Western Auto	14	12	11	25—62
LaMonte	15	3	13	20—51

Devine Considered As Missouri Coach At Columbia Today

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—Coach Dan Devine of Arizona State at Tempe, ranked 12th in the final Associated Press poll this season, said yesterday he is being considered for head football coach at Missouri.

Devine disclosed that he would meet with Missouri authorities today and tomorrow in Columbia at the invitation of Don Faurot, Missouri athletic director. The job was left vacant by Frank Broyles.

Devine, 33, a former assistant coach at Michigan State, coached Arizona State to a 10-0 season this year and a Border Conference championship.

In three years at Tempe, Devine has compiled a record of 27 victories, three losses, one tie and has twice been named conference coach of the year.

49'er Star Set to Move To New Post

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Hugh McElhenny admits he'd prefer the backfield, but the San Francisco 49ers star says if he can be more help to the team at end, that's where he'll play.

Big Mac, long considered one of the National Football League's best running backs, was switched to end three weeks ago when injuries depleted the terminal corps.

It came as a surprise to fans, but the planners in the 49ers had figured on the move in case of emergency. The emergency came when Clyde Conner was injured against Detroit.

McElhenny said playing end wasn't too strange; he was used as a flanker in previous seasons.

"It wasn't just a spur of the moment thing," declared Assistant Coach Red Hickey. "Mac had the speed we needed. A real fine athlete can change positions fast and Mac did."

McElhenny received the winning touchdown pass Sunday against Baltimore. That threw the 49ers into a three-way tie with the Colts and Detroit in the National Football League's Western Conference.

Just before that he had caught a pass for a gain of 43 yards that put San Francisco into scoring position. He gained 165 yards on eight catches during the day.

Major Clubs Are Cautioned On TV Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic chairman and the ranking Republican on the House antitrust committee have cautioned major league baseball clubs to go slow on plans to televise their games into minor league territory.

The plain implication of a joint statement issued yesterday by Rep. Celler (D-NY), the chairman, and Rep. Keating (R-NY) was that if the plans are pushed through the upshot may be stiff antitrust legislation to protect the minors.

The proposal, advanced by several clubs, is to make contracts to televise Sunday afternoon games, and to beam daily telecasts of big league contests into the minors' territory.

Minor league spokesmen, at the recent baseball meeting in Colorado Springs, raised sharp objections.

Celler and Keating, adopting the arguments of the minors, said such action would severely undermine minor league baseball and "jeopardize the welfare of the entire sport."

"For these reasons," they went on, "we commend the baseball commissioner, Ford Frick, for his opposition to these proposals.

"We intend in January to discuss with the attorney general and major and minor league officials the antitrust issues involved. We will then determine whether legislation is necessary and appropriate."

Sooners Name Four To Opposing Team

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—University of Oklahoma football players yesterday named four Notre Dame players to the Sooners' all opponent team.

Heading the list from the Irish —first team to defeat Oklahoma in 48 games—was fullback Nick Pietrosante, the bruising junior who led Notre Dame to its 7-0 victory.

He drew 35 votes of the 36 Sooner squadmen who balloted. Also named from Notre Dame were end Monty Stickles, guard Al Ecuyer and quarterback Bob Williams.

Others named to the all-opponent team were halfbacks Bob Stransky of Colorado and Dwight Nichols of Iowa State; end Don Zadnick, Kansas State; tackle J. T. Seaholm, Texas; and Jim McCusker, Pittsburgh; guard John Wooten, Colorado, and center Louis Del Homme, Texas.

MAY RUN—Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, told newsmen in Washington that he is considering running for the Senate seat now held by Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.), who is stepping down next year. Butler, whose home is in South Bend, Ind., said he probably wouldn't make a final decision until early next year.

Mays Named Champion By League Officials

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Mays, the Giants' one-man gang, captured the National League slugging championship in 1957 for the third time in the last four seasons, the official averages released today disclosed.

Mays collected 366 total bases in 585 times at bat for a slugging mark of .626. He edged Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee. Musial finished with .612 and Aaron at .600.

Aaron compiled the most total bases, 369, but he had 615 official trips. Slugging averages are based on the total bases accumulated from all hits and the number of official times at bat.

Mays, who will display his outfielding and hitting skill to San Francisco fans next season, won the slugging title in 1954 and 1955.

Mitchell Defends Public Disclosure Of Vanguard Flop

NEW YORK (AP) Secretary of Labor Mitchell, describing a free press as basic to democracy, today defended public disclosure of the failure of the Vanguard satellite test.

"There is no question at all that open disclosure is necessary and desirable in any country in which the people govern themselves," Mitchell said in a speech prepared for the Life Insurance Assn. of America.

"The fact of public knowledge is far more important to the strength of democracy than any technical achievement could ever be."

The Navy's project Vanguard last Friday made the first U. S. effort to launch a small test satellite. The Vanguard rocket exploded on the ground at Cape Canaveral, Fla. Vanguard spokesmen blamed a mechanical failure.

Mitchell said experimental failure is inevitable in any scientific undertaking.

"Some persons insist on hearing about it, and then act as though they wish they had not. I can only call such attitudes childish and illogical," he said.

Soviets Alarm Child; He Donates Savings

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. — (AP) Joe Santore is only 10, but he views with alarm the Soviet earth satellites.

Joe and his fifth-grade classmates sent $2.01 to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna, which was set up several months ago to promote world cooperation in developing peaceful uses for atomic energy.

The $2.01 a dollar of which was contributed by Joe was the agency's first private gift.

Joe, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. William Santore, said the Soviet lead in earth satellites alarmed him. He said he wants to further the advance of Western knowledge in the satellite field.

Fire Fatal to Three

SOUTH SHORE, Ky. (AP)—Three children burned to death last night when fire destroyed their home in a remote section near this eastern Kentucky community.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sowards, led three other children to safety.

State Trooper Estil Coleman said the fire apparently started from an overheated stove. He said flames spread so swiftly firemen couldn't reach the scene in time to save the three - room frame house.

The victims were identified as Terry Allen Soward, 5, and his sisters, Rita Gail, 8, and Minnie Maxine, 7.

Ask Science Stress

DENVER (AP) — Colorado's Board of Education has called for a step up in scientific, engineering in high schools in a statement which the chairman said was inspired by Russia's technological advances.

"The fact they are charging ahead justifies urgency in meeting their challenge," said Mrs. Anna C. Petteys, the chairman.

Christopher Says Retiring Land No Good

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Christopher (D-Mo) said today he does not believe proposals for retiring voluntarily some entire farms from production by placing them in the soil conservation reserve would solve the farm surplus problem.

A former Agriculture Department Conservation Service Employe and "dirt" farmer, Christopher told a reporter he is opposed to such a plan.

"It is another scheme to get the farmer off the farm and get him into the city and into industry," Christopher declared. "It would make it still more difficult for a young man to start farming."

Such a plan, under which a landowner could voluntarily retire his farm and receive government payments, would add to any unemployment in the cities and to their housing problems, the Missourian declared.

"I do not believe this plan is the answer to the farm surplus problem," he said. "The answer to the problem, instead, is price supports and acreage controls with cross compliance that will prevent shifting of retired acres from one crop to another, both of which are in surplus."

For 20 years under a Democratic administration, Christopher said, there were farm price supports costing a total of $1,200,000,000. He said these support programs raised the parity figure from 58 per cent in 1932 to 100 per cent in 1941 as an average on all farm prices.

The parity level remained at 100 per cent or more for 11 consecutive years, he declared, "until 1956 when the Benson administration took over." (He referred to Secretary of Agriculture Benson).

"It is down now to an average of 80 per cent of parity," Christopher added.

In 1932, he continued, farmers paid five million dollars in income taxes, and by 1952 a total of $1,356,000,000 "because they had the income then on which to be taxed." In 1956, he said, the income tax figure for the farmers had declined $290,000,000 from the 1952 amount.

Christopher, whose right leg was amputated at Bethesda Naval Hospital Nov. 20 because of a circulatory ailment, was reported progressing nicely.

He told a reporter he plans to leave the hospital Dec. 22 and fly to Kansas City, going from there to his farm home near Butler, Mo., to spend Christmas with his family.

He expects to be back at the Capitol for the opening of Congress Jan. 7. When the session ends, he added, he will return to his congressional district in the fall to campaign for re-election.

Tattoo Not the Way To Win Back Girl

LONDON (AP) — Henry Ferrie sadly reported today that getting your face tattooed is no way to win back a girl friend unless maybe you are a Hottentot.

Ferrie, a 38-year-old janitor, recently had a spat with his steady, Tilly Farrell, 40. Explaining to a reporter what happened next, he said: "I once told her, 'Tilly, if you ever leave me, I'll have my whole face tattooed so that no other woman will ever look at me.'"

Ferrie went out and had a butterfly tattooed on his nose, a tree on his forehead, a coiled snake on his left cheek and a flying dragon on his right cheek. Then he went to see Tilly.

"I thought he had taken leave of his senses," she said. "I'm afraid it is all up between us."

"The tattoos are permanent," said Ferrie, "so I think I will get a job with a circus to help me forget.'

He opened his shirt collar, revealing a tattoo across his throat saying "Cut here."

Displaced

In 1915, there were 1,434,000 horses and mules in Kansas, but only 3,000 tractors; in 1955, there were 176,000 tractors and only 38,000 horses and mules.

An Artery Is Pinched

Strange Repercussions Trail New York's Subway Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York subway system is something like the network of arteries and veins in the human body. Block any part of the system, and there's no telling what trouble may ensure.

This week's subway strike has had some strange repercussions.

For example, airplanes have taken off late for distant points. Why? Well, the subway strike forced commuters to use their cars to get to work. This congested Long Island parkways. Airlines buses from Manhattan to the airports got caught in traffic jams and passengers arrived late. So the planes had to wait for them.

Staten Island ferries carried 10,000 more passengers a day from Brooklyn. That's right, Brooklyn. Ingenious residents of that borough who couldn't get into Manhattan by subway worked out an alternate plan. They took a ferry from Brooklyn to Staten Island and then from Staten Island to Mnahattan. One such voyager, Louis Weinstein, 42, traveled two hours to get to a destination formerly 35 minutes away. But he said:

"I've never had a better time traveling to work and back home than I've had since the strike began. I spend four hours a day traveling, but I feel more relaxed, I get more fresh air, have plenty of time to read the newspapers."

To get downtown, some enterprising travelers took the Hudson tubes from Herald Square—at 34th Street—to New Jersey. There they boarded a tube train that brought them back to downtown Manhattan.

Two Brooklynites, trying to catch a train out of Pennsylvania Station and unable to get there by subway, caught a Long Island Rail Road train from Brooklyn to Jamaica, Queens. There they switched to a Manhattan-bound LIRR train that deposited them in Penn Station with time to spare.

So it goes, it takes a little doing, but a New Yorker gets pretty resourceful over the years.

Commuters who have motored to work for years with nothing but the normal traffic jams to contend with suddenly find no place to park when they get into Manhattan. One such reportedly drove in from Jersey, then had to drive all the way back, leave the car and take a bus in again to work.

Everybody, it seems, had an ear to the ground. For example, word got around that the Flushing IRT line was operating near normal despite the strike. Thousands of commuters descended on the Flushing terminal, jammed the trains and stranded thousands who couldn't get aboard at en route stops.

While it's been pretty grim, there have been some laughs.

There was the man in Brooklyn who tried to squeeze aboard a train with a tuba. Neither made it.

A Times Square subway guard, noting a sorely beset woman at the door of a train, yelled in compassion: "Let that woman off, let her off!"

Shouted the woman: "Who wants off, I just got on."

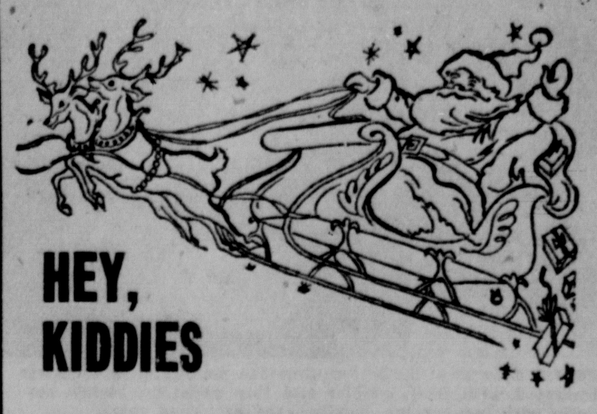

On a subway in Queens, a thin voice cried woefully from somewhere in the massed, immovable human throng: "Ladies and gentlemen. I hate to bother you but I'm not standing in my shoes. Could you please look around if they are near you?"

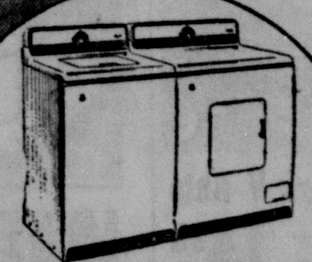

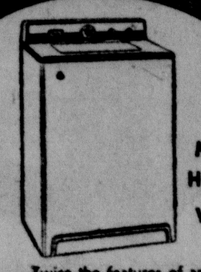

But the woman was swept off at the next station and no one knows whether she ever recovered her shoes.

Business generally took a licking as a result of the strike. Not, however, gin mills near Penn Station and Grand Central, where tens of thousands converged daily seeking alternate transportation. Chortled one innkeeper: "Last night they were six deep at the bar. It looked like New Year's Eve."

Let Tablewear Serve Also As a Christmas Decoration

Holiday decoration in the Scandinavian manner, a wooden tree decorated with fruit, cookies and tiny packages, blends perfectly with inexpensive, weathervane-patterned china.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Let your tableware add to the holiday atmosphere by using it in clever and easy-to-make Christmas decorations. Patterns and ments.

For example: a provincial weather vane motif on an inexpensive, new dinnerware can be repaired on holiday table with a wooden "tree" hung with fruit and cookies in the Scandinavian tradition.

The tree is made of four dowels of graduated length. Run dowels through holes drilled in a slender center post that is nailed to a wood base.

It may be painted red or white. Oranges and apples are stuck on ends of the dowels and cookies are tied to the "branches" with ribbons (bake or buy cookies with holes in them). The dinnerware's weather vane pattern is in shades of ocher, bronze and black against white.

It shows up well with white tree against a dark green . This type of setting is adaptable to other provincial patterns or to use with plin, white, contemporary dinnerware.

For something novel, pile modern, square and triangular-shape colored oil ornaments in contemporary bowls or long, boat-shape planters. It's a variation on the standard use of conventional glass ornaments for this purpose.

With the traditional silver-plate hollow ware shined up for the holiday parties, take advantge of its sparkle for off-duty use in deocrations.

A silver platter with a wood well and tree carving block can double as the base for a gleaming Christms plaque set on a buffet or console table. Long-needled greens, lightly sprayed with "snow," form a graceful little tree when boughs are taped along the grooves of the tree-patterned block.

A silvery sugr bowl can be made to serve as a miniature vase for sprays of greenery on desk or bookcase, or it can be filled with striped candy canes. Put a toy Santa Claus nearby to stand guard.

The weighted sugar bowl cover doubles as an elegant paperweight for just-arrived Christmas cards. When not needed for tea or coffee service, put the silver-plated cream pitcher to work as a cigarette holder. A plastic flower holder inside the pitcher will support the cigarettes.

Silver-plate platter doubles as frame for a tiny tree of long-needled evergreens. Tree is taped to grooves of carving block.

Boxing Gives Up TV Time To Bowling

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Tomorrow evening that popular television sports pastime, "the fights," will have its time pre-empted on NBC for the first time in two years.

In its stead will appear—on both NBC-TV and radio — a rapidly popular pastime: bowling. From Chicago come the finals of the World's Invitational Match Game Championships, now being referred to as the World Series of Bowling.

Bowling has had a phenomenal growth in recent years. The bowling industry—and it has become a very big industry—says that four years ago there were an estimated 20 million regular bowlers in the country. Today there are 22 million.

Why has the number grown so fast? Because of television, industry sources believe. The increase in bowlers has coincided with the appearance and increasing popularity of bowling on the home screen. While the industry can easily measure the number of active bowlers, it has no way of measuring the number of inactive —or arm-chair—bowlers.

A friend of ours, one of the nation's leading inactive bowlers and arm-chair students of the game, reports: "Strike or spare me, I wouldn't be caught dead in an alley. Why should I when, by watching it on television, better men than I can work off my frustrations for me? Because bowling is the greatest release for the frustrate devised by man since—well, you can't print that.

"It's my theory that the fact a bowling ball is usually black is highly significant. It represents the ill will that a man—or woman —expels toward a job, a boss, a mate. But instead of lashing out at them, he—or she—takes out resentment on wooden dummies that clatter over—if you're lucky — with a resounding, soul-satisfying crash. Strike! Frustration relieved. Tomorrow you'll be smiling at the boss whose wooden image you destroyed tonight."

Large Attendance At Club Meeting

Twenty-six members of Bothwell Extension Club met Dec. 4 at the home of Mrs. Lester Sprinkles and answered roll call with "The Christmas I Remember Best." Mrs. Chester Wise led the devotional. Mrs. George Brown told of 4-H club work. Gifts were exchanged and names for secret pals were drawn.

Mrs. R. N. Jenkins was a guest. The Jan. 2 meeting will be with Mrs. O. E. Richards.

Children Love Decorating Their Own Christmas Tree

PLAYROOM CHRISTMAS TREE—This little girl is trimming her own small white tree with gaily colored plastic toys.

AP Newsfeatures

There's no law against having more than one Christmas tree in the house.

In recent years the trend has been toward decorating every room in the house for Christmas—mistletoe in the kitchen, holly in the dining room, the big family tree in the living room and a miniature Christmas tree in the nursery.

There's nothing that gives children more pre-Christmas excitement and fun than having their own playroom tree to decorate. They can spend hours of delicious, aticipatory play arranging the small glittering ornaments and adding their own touches in the form of bright toys, strings of cornberries or colored paper chains that they make themselves.

Small chemically treated trees complete with metal base filled with a chemical solution to keep them fresh are widey available and come packaged with ornments. They come in choice of colors—white, silver, pink or blue, in addition to the traditional green.

Mississippi Ends Child Bride Era

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The era of the child bride will end in Mississippi next July 1.

For decades, the nation has been shocked by the marriages in Mississippi of girls as young as 10 or 11, often to men old enough to be their grandfathers.

Like others escaping the strict laws of states as far away as Illinois or New York, they were married in the neon-lighted "marriage mills" just inside the Mississippi state line.

The Legislature yesterday replaced Mississippi's lax marriage law with one about as strict as any. It requires a blood test to prove the couple does not have syphilis, a three-day waiting period, and sets minimum ages of 15 for women and 17 for men.

Publicity about child brides this year probably helped pass the bill. Present laws set no minimum age for marrying.

Mary Lou Lawson, 14-year-old Zelma, Mo., schoolgirl, was married at Hernando last Oct. 3 to a 76-year-old great-grandfather, John G. Tatro of Sturdivant, Mo. "I'd rather be an old man's darling than a young man's slave," said Mary Lou.

The "marrying business" is a big thing in border counties, especially those on federal highways. Last year, Mississippi's 66,223 marriage licenses were topped only by Nevada. Of those 66,223, more than 64 per cent went to out-of-state residents and 46 per cent went to teen-agers.

Venezuela Election Set for Next Sunday

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The board that runs Venezuela's elections has in effect told the public that a vote next Sunday against President Marcos Perez Jiminez is a vote for poverty.

Perez Jiminez, seeking another five-year term, and 130 government-nominated congressional aspirants are the only candidates. The ballot provides only for a yes-no vote on those candidates.

The Electoral Council published an advertisement saying: "Venezuelans: It is necessary to choose between progress and backsliding, order and disorder, prosperity and misery. Vote!"

Prosperity based on oil and lavish public works seems to favor the government. No serious opposition has shown itself and the country has been quiet.

'Torpedoed Ship' Is On Maneuver

NEW YORK (AP) — A ship radio operator tuned in a few seconds too late on a "torpedoed ship" message and created quite a stir for a while. The report turned out to be part of a joint exercise of the Canadian and U. S. navies.

The flurry started yesterday when the Coast Guard in Miami received a radio report from the tanker South Carolina saying she had intercepted an indistinct message from an unnamed ship stating the vessel had been torpedoed.

A check with Washington revealed nothing. Then came word from a spokesman for Atlantic Fleet headquarters at Norfolk, Va.

He said vessels of the U. S. and Canadian navies were conducting sea and air exercises off Nova Scotia.

Later, a Navy spokesman said such antisubmarine exercises are a routine weekly affair and added: "The merchant ship didn't hear the first part of the message. The message began, "This is a drill.'"

THE NATO ALLIES — Map shows the 15 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization whose "summit" members will meet in Paris. NATO was formed when the United States, Canada and 10 Western European nations, on March 18, 1949, adopted a defense pact agreeing that "an armed attack against one or more of them in Europe and North America shall be considered an attack against all." Purpose of the current meeting of NATO leaders is to elevate the organization's prestige, declining in the face of Soviet propaganda victories, restore harmony among some of its dissident members and provide NATO with the strong leadership needed.

Use Old Fashioned Art for Plum Pudding

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Do old-fashioned arts interest you? Then how about boiling your holiday plum puddings in muslin bags the old time way? If you want to give some of the puddings away, make them look like icy snowballs by coating them in melted paraffin and then decorate with greens.

OILED PLUM PUDDING

Ingredients: 1 pound seedless raisins, 1 pound golden raisins, 1 pound currants, ½ pound can died lemon peel, ½ pound candied orange peel, ½ pound citron, ½ pound blanched almonds, 2 cups orange juice, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 teaspoons cloves, 2 teaspoons nutmeg, 3¾ cups fine dry bread crumbs, 2 cups golden shortening, 2 cups firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 12 eggs.

Method: Rinse raisins and currants in hot water; drain. Slice lemon peel, orange peel and citron thin. Chop almonds. Mix raisins, peels, citron and almonds with orange juice in a bowl or crock; cover and soak overnight. Next day sift together the flour, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg; mix with bread crumbs. Cream shortening and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly, two at a time; stir in flour mixture, then fruit mixture. Steam according to following directions. Makes 10 pound pudding.

STEAMING DIRECTIONS

For individual 2-pound puddings, cut 14-inch squares from white muslin; dip squares in boiling water to remove any sizing. Spread a square of muslin on pastry board and measure 2 pounds (about 4 cups) of the pudding batter into the center of the cloth. Bring up the cloth around pudding, forming pudding into a ball and tie tightly at the top with string, leaving about 1-inch air space at the top for expansion.

Bring a kettle of water to a rolling boil, put in the puddings, cover and boil rapidly for 2 hours. (If you make smaller or larger puddings, boil 1 hour per pound.)

Remove the pudding to a cake rack to drain and cool. Store in tightly covered container. To reheat, steam about 1 hour, or until heated through.

FOR CHRISTMAS GIVING

Cut new squares of muslin, about 16-inches square for 2-pound puddings. Wrap the muslin-covered puddings in the new muslin squares; tie tightly at the top with string. Melt some paraffin in a shallow container so it is about 1-inch deep; do not have it scalding hot. Dip the bottom of the puddings in the melted paraffin and spoon paraffin over sides and top to make a complete seal. Decorate with Christmas greenery. Put a tag on each pudding saying that the outer muslin with its paraffin coating must be removed before the pudding is reheated for serving.

EASY CHOCOLATE SAUCE

You can make a jigtime chocolate sauce by melting half a pound of chocolate caramels with half a cup of milk over very low heat, stirring occasionally.

Dates Ahead

Saturday, Dec. 14 — Dramatics Committee meeting in extension office at 10:30 a.m.

The following recipe is for the Cranberry Punch served at the Home Economics Council meeting Monday, Dec. 9.

4 cups cranberries
2 quarts water
12 whole cloves

Heat together until berries have popped open. Strain and add:

1½ cups sugar
2 cups orange juice
1 cup lemon juice

Serve hot (do not boil) or serve cold. A dip of lime ice added to the cold punch makes a nice summer drink.

For Christmas

When you are selecting toys for the children's Christmas, avoid those which are hazardous. Before purchasing a toy examine its shape and construction to be sure it will not cut or otherwise injure the child.

Be sure there are no slender parts which could be inserted in the nose, ear or mouth. Safe toys should be made of materials which will not break into sharp, jagged edges. Avoid toys with small detachable parts which could be swallowed. Electrical toys should bear the Underwriter's Laboratory label of approval.

A file to hold all important family papers is a valuable addition to any home business center. It would make a fine gift for the family record keeper. The file may be a cabinet, box, or folder that holds labeled folders or envelopes in alphabetical order.

A few suggested folder headings are: accounts, insurance, receipts, tax information, health, equipment and so forth.

Many families will find that they need to have a current file for materials they are now using and another file for matter not used all the time.

Start 1958 with a record file. It will make record keeping easy.

Sewing Machines Need Special Attention

In the scurry of holiday sewing, it's easy to forget that you may need to give the faithful sewing machine some extra attention. Regular care may help prevent the machine from failing you when you need it most.

It is a good practice to oil a machine after each day's work or after eight to 10 hours of use. Oil it occasionally whether you use it or not. The electric motor should be lubricated according to manufacturer's instructions only.

Use oil packaged by a sewing machine manufacturer and apply it to each point as shown in the instruction manual that came with your machine.

Another care feature that needs to be taken care of regularly is cleaning. With a soft brush, brush lint and dust from around the bobbin and feed. Wipe off excess oil.

Machines need to be adjusted regularly, too. The tension should be adjusted so that the top and bottom stitches look the same. Use the same size thread on both bobbin and spool. The stitch length control should be working freely so that you can regulate the stitch over the entire range of stitch lengths possible on the machine.

Adjust the pressure of the pres*sure foot to suit the thickness* and texture of the fabric you're sewing on.

The needle should be the correct length, sharp and straight. The size needle you should have depends on your fabric. Lightweight and sheer fabrics require a finer needle than heavier weight materials.

When you change the needle see that it is placed in the correct position and goes through the center of the hole in the throat plate.

Conducts Own Defense, Cools Off in Bullpen

CHICAGO (AP)—William Allen, 25, in Criminal Court on a charge of robbery, objected to a court-appointed lawyer's efforts in his behalf. The judge agreed to let him conduct his own defense.

As his first move, Allen rushed over to the defense lawyer's table and began tearing up all the papers concerning his case. Bailiffs took him to the court bullpen to cool off. There he knocked out a window, cutting his hands and arms.

After first aid, Allen was returned to the court. He grabbed a state exhibit, a revolver allegedly used in the robbery, and began brandishing it.

An officer stepped in, disarmed Allen and returned him to jail to await another hearing.

Hot Chase Cools Off

MOUNT STERLING, Ky. (AP) — Montgomery County jailer E. H. Swope took out in hot pursuit when a prisoner fled — but the trail was much too cold.

The jailer chased Barnard Shelton of Winchester over icy streets and slippery sidewalks. He said he gave up only when Shelton went skidding around a corner and disappeared. Shelton was being taken to jail after being fined for traffic violations.

Retail Trade Shows Effect Of Squeeze

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Retail trade is beginning today to show the effects of a two-way squeeze on family budgets under way for several months.

The squeeze comes on the one hand from a rash of plant shutdowns and work week shortenings that has cut off or reduced the weekly pay checks of many factory workers. On the other is the long and steady rise in the cost of living.

So the Department of Commerce reports that retail sales in November, adjusted for seasonal factors and trading day differences, dipped below the October figure.

Merchants had been counting on sales to rise last month and reach a peak this month. Many still look for a big last-minute rush.

The picture is spotty around the nation, depending on weather conditions and employment levels.

New York City merchants have their special form of bad luck. The subway strike cut store traffic far below normal just when they were pushing Christmas merchandise.

The Commerce Department report for November shows retail stores taking in a little more than 17 billion dollars, a 3 per cent gain over the 16½ billion dollar haul of a year ago. But the gain is the same percentage that prices rose in the last 12 months. This indicates that no more goods in unit volume are being moved this year than last, despite the growth in population and the much touted rise in wage scales.

Durable goods stores, in fact, report sales trailing last year by 2 per cent, and this October by 1 per cent, with the furniture and appliance group showing the chief drop.

Consumers' chances of price relief are spotty too. If store stocks don't move between now and Christmas merchants expected, the post-Christmas sales could be spectacular this year.

But the longer range outlook is another matter. The head of a leading mail order house says his 1958 spring catalogue prices can only hold the line because wage rates resist downward change.

If this is the general outlook for consumer goods, the two-way squeeze will keep right on checking retail sales gains. That is, if family budgets can't support more buying, or maybe not even equal buying of new goods, retail trade can't expand.

Hal Boyle's Column

He Believes He Has Proved Point About a Poor Sport

By HAL BOYLE

ANDROS TOWN, Bahamas (AP)—For years I've been saying that fishing isn't much of a sport because it's too easy.

Now, at the risk of enraging the nation's 20 million anglers, I think I've proved my point.

Sportsmen travel from all points of the compass to try their luck here at catching bonefish, one of the world's fightingest game fish. Their scientific name stands for "White Fox," and they are also known as "The Phantoms of the Flats."

"Let's see what we can do," suggested my wartime buddy and vacation companion, Don Whitehead, author of "The FBI Story."

"I don't think it's quite fair," I replied. "What chance has a poor dumb fish got against a grown man with charm, character, two college degrees and a receding hairline?"

"Save the small talk," said Whitehead, who has fished since he was a tadpole, "and get in the boat."

We climbed into the small skiff and Rudy, our native guide, bumpety-bumped us over 15 miles of azure sea to a favorite creek further down this largest of the Bahamas Islands.

After hanging a chunk of crab on the hook, I remarked:

"I still feel like a criminal. What chance have they got?"

"Fish or cut bait," remarked Whitehead.

Well, reluctantly, I made my first cast. Believe it or—zing!—there was a silvery surge in the water, and the reel groaned as a big bonefish hit the bait and raced with it 75 yards.

Five battling minutes later I reeled him in. My hands ached.

"Like I said," I told Whitehead, "the fish hasn't got a chance."

"Try again," he suggested. His mouth fell open as I made another cast—and immediately got another strike. Then he got a strike himself. For the next hour we reeled them in steadily.

"I got a blister on my thumb," I said. "Let's quit."

"Quit now! Are you crazy?" said Whitead. "We may never get fishing again like this the rest of our life."

After another hour of continuous and successful struggle, I was weary of pulling in the bonefish, each of which put up a desperate scrap. My hands were red and nearly raw.

"This is too easy—it bothers my conscience," I told Whitehead. "I'm going to take a siesta."

He watched in disbelief as I stretched out in the prow, put my head on a pillow, and fell asleep.

He kept on fishing—but with less luck—until I woke up and suggested we go home.

"Not until we get at least a couple more," he said.

"This is all so unfair," I murmured, tossing out my line. Zing! A strike. Whitehead shook his head and cast himself. Zing! Another strike.

We headed home — bumpety-bump-bump over the waves. At the pier we counted our fish and found we had 25 — not counting four we had tossed back — a record catch from a single skiff here in one day. We distributed them among the natives who find them choice eating.

"Let's go out again tomorrow," said Whitehead.

"Not me," I replied. "I feel ashamed. It's all been so unfair. I feel sorry for the poor fish."

Now I know millions of anglers who would bet me a hundred dollars I couldn't go out and duplicate my feat the next day. But remember the duffer who stepped up to his first tee, belted a hole-in-one and threw away his clubs, saying, "this game is too easy?"

Well, nobody could ever prove he was wrong—so long as he didn't step up to the second tee. That's why I'm hanging up my fishing pole. The time to quit is when you've made your point.

Fishing is just too simple. I'm going back to croquet. That's a game of real skill.

Martin Wins Custody Of Four Children

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — It's seven youngsters now under the Dean Martin roof.

The singer was awarded custody yesterday of his four children by his first wife Elizabeth Anne, who did not contest the action.

She had been given the children when they were divorced at Las Vegas, Nev., in 1949.

Martin, who has three children by his present wife Jean, charged in his petition that his ex-wife had neglected the four youngsters and had not made adequate financial provision for them. They are Craig, 15, Claudia, 13, Gail, 12, and Deana, 9.

Truck Licenses Now On Sale at Askew's

The 1958 Missouri truck licenses are now available at the state license bureau at the Askew Motor Co., Fourth and Lamine, for those who desire to make an early purchase of their tag.

W. C. Askew, deputy motor vehicle commissioner, reported owners can avoid a last-minute rush or the long wait of standing in line to get their licenses if they obtain them before the first of the year. The licenses are due as of Jan. 1, 1958.

A last-minute wait ofttimes causes an operator of a truck to become delinquent, when he must wait in a long line and gives up with the theory of returning later to get them, Askew said.

He Will Need It, Says Bail Bondsman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charles Puccinelli, 44, was watching television in his brother's bail bond office when a man walked in and asked for bail.

"For who?" asked Puccinelli.

"For me," said the man, pulling out a revolver.

Puccinelli handed over $4,400. The man fled.

Favor Costs Life

PRATT, Kan. (AP)—William Roy Shafer, 25-year-old trucker, stopped to do a good turn and paid with his life.

He was driving by Everett Carr's farmhouse when he noticed a fire had broken out. He stopped to help fight it.

After the fire was out, Shafer pointed out to Carr a bare spot on a wire leading into the house, apparently the cause of the trouble.

Ask Church Aid In Safety Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Public officials seeking ways to cut the traffic death toll have included churches in their appeals for support of traffic safety programs.

Some 400 officials from all 48 states Tuesday closed a two day conference, called by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety, with adoption of recommendations.

One report approved said: "Good driving is, among other things, a moral issue. Officials responsible for driver-improvement programs point out that the churches must play a more important part in developing a sense of individual responsibility, and in identifying traffic law violaton as evil human conduct."

The conference emphasized the importance of tougher requirements for driver licensing.

One recommendation called for completion of a state-approved driver training course as a condition for a driver license. Another proposed that nobody be licensed unless he has completed an approved driver training course in high school or in an adult evening or weekend class.

Still another recommendation urged adoption by all states of the provisions of the uniform vehicle code relating to the licensing of drivers.

The recommendations came from eight workshops into which the conference divided itself.

OPEN THE COKE and START THE FUN!

Hear ye! Hear ye! Holiday good times are coming up with guests a-plenty and parties galore. And what's wanted in the refreshment line? Why, plenty of ice-cold Coke, of course. The sparkling pleasure, the bright little lift of Coca-Cola, makes everyone enjoy the party more. The best-loved sparkling drink in all the world . . . that's Coke!

PARTY IDEAS: With flowers and bows, here's a new buffet-way to serve your ice-cold bottles of Coke. Tie a perky little red bow around the neck of each bottle and stick a tiny button chrysanthemum or a bit of holly through the bow. Set your holiday-gay bottles out on a tray and let guests help themselves to the good taste of Coca-Cola.

A Fruit Cake Without Candied Fruit

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's the best fruit cake idea we've come on this season. Make up one batch of cake and you'll have a loaf plus three dozen bonbons.

If you favor plenty of batter with just enough fruit and nuts, this recipe is for you. We like it because it's delicious and satisfying without being overloaded with sweet candied fruit. The bonbons (miniature cakes) will be a conversation piece when you serve them and they're also wonderfully attractive to pack into a box for a gift.

TWO-WAY FRUIT CAKE

Ingredients: 2 cups seedless raisins, 1 cup currants, 1 cup finely pitted dates, ½ cup finely cut candied cherries, ½ cup finely cut citron, ½ cup finely cut candied orange peel, 1 tablespoon of grated orange rind, 1 cup chopped Brazil nuts, 2½ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon allspice, ½ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon mace, ½ cup shortening, ½ cup sugar, 4 eggs, ¾ cup old-fashioned molasses, ½ cup orange juice, Glaze, fruits and nuts for decorating.

Method: Rinse raisins and currants in hot water and drain; mix with dates, candied cherries, citron, candied orange peel, grated orange rind and Brazil nuts. Sift together flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, allspice, cloves and mace; mix ½ cup with fruit-nut mixture. Cream shortening and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly one at a time. Mix molasses and orange juice; add to creamed mixture alternately with remaining flour mixture. Fold in prepared fruits and nuts. Turn into 2 greased and waxed paper-lined 6 x 3 x 2 inch loaf pans, or one 6 x 3 x 2 inch loaf pan and 36 1¼-inch paper baking cups, placed in small muffin pans. Bake in a slow (325 degree) oven 1 hour and 35 minutes for the loaves, and 30 to 35 minutes for the cup cakes. Remove from oven and brush with glaze. Decorate with Brazil nut chips, candied cherries and angelica. Makes 4 pounds fruit cake.

Glaze: Stir 1 tablespoon light corn syrup, 3 tablespoons orange juice and 2 tablespoons light brown sugar together in saucepan over low heat until sugar is dissolved; bring to a full boil. Remove from heat. Brush on fruit cakes.

TWO-WAY FRUIT CAKE combines a new idea with an old fashioned recipe. The result is an extra bonus of bonbons for holiday snacks or to be wrapped as gifts.

Difference

Poisonous sumacs can be recognized because the berries always hang in drooping clusters. The red berries of the harmless sumacs are in dense, erect clusters.

Australia, Hawaii, South Africa and the Virgin Islands have organizations similar to the Community Chest idea.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

"China's Sorrow"
The Hwang-Ho River sometimes is called "China's Sorrow," because of the many floods which brought death and hunger to the people living along its banks.

Dartmouth's "Indians"
Nickname for Dartmouth College's athletic teams is "Indians," derived from the fact that the school was chartered in 1769 as a charity school for the Indians.

Woman Finds Tax Law Is Not Dull

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A woman lawyer can't argue that she's as good as a man in winning legal battles. She's got to prove it first.

Washington attorney Marguerite Rawalt believes that's the only way to get a prospective male client who doubts a woman can win his case.

"If you discuss his case with him, he might come to the conclusion that you had knowledge and ability in spite of your sex."

And Miss Rawalt's record reveals conclusive evidence that a woman can become just as successful as a man in the nation's legal profession.

An expert on tax law for the United States Internal Revenue Service, she holds the important job of assistant to the head of the Civil Division, Office of the Chief Counsel.

Miss Rawalt was president of the National Association of Women Lawyers in 1942. A year later she became president of the Federal Bar Association, the only woman to ever hold this position.

Last year she was one of seven American lawyers invited to Germany to study that country's court system. Presently she is working with a group of other attorneys to establish a special research center and library on governmental law.

Miss Riwalt disagrees with the idea that tax law is a dull subject to work on day after day. "Tax lawyers see the whole play of human relations," she says.

"One of the most satisfying things about my job is that I have freedom to come to an independent conclusion that I think is the right one for the taxpayer." She explains, "We're not out to win a case just for the record but to be fair with the taxpayer under the law. All we want is the tax he owes, no more or no less."

In addition to her extensive legal work, Miss Rawalt has played an active and important part in the National Federation of Business and Professional Womens Clubs. While president of the organization, she represented it at international BPW meetings in Venice, Italy and Berne, Switzerland.

Recently she was named Professional Woman of the Year by the BPW's District of Columbia branch.

In private life she is the wife of retired Air Force Maj. Harry Secord. Whenever she can find time to relax from her job and club activities, Miss Rawalt likes to fish, swim and look at television whodunits.

But even at home, she can't escape her outstanding legal reputation. Miss Rawalt reveals that she has to fill out the yearly income tax report. "My husband leaves that to me like I leave such things as repairs and purchases to him." She explains that the major is completely in charge when it comes to buying something like a new car.

"He wasn't in the Air Force for years not to know something about machinery," she says.

Disney, Dali Are Unlike But Friends

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—

Offhand you wouldn't think that Walt Disney and Salvador Dali had much in common. But though of different schools, they're both artists and they're also good friends. Disney visited Dali at the latter's home on the Mediterranean while en route from France to Spain.

Dali once worked at the Disney studio for a spell, devising a surrealistic sequence for one of the animated vaudeville features the company was making after the war. But such films failed to sell, and the project was scrapped. . . .

The Robert Wagner and Natalie Wood romance continues hot and heavy. He's a constant companion while she's working on "The Kings Go Forth" and friends are predicting a holiday wedding. . . .

Frank Sinatra on acting styles: "I never have been a fan of the sweatshirt school of acting. The only one of that group I admire is Eli Wallach, and he has gone far beyond it. When I heard he had tested for Maggio in 'From Here to Eternity,' I told my agents I didn't have a chance." Fortunately for Frank, Wallach couldn't do the film because of another commitment. . . .

James Mason did some opining to drama students at UCLA, attacking commercialism in the American theater. Said he: "Playhouse 90 is one of the biggest productions on television. And who should come out in the middle but Bing Crosby selling gas. That is compromising one's art too far."

Lots of folks are wondering why Bing is doing the gas pitch. The reason is simple: Money. . . .

Stan Laurel read reports that Jack Webb was planning to film the Laurel and Hardy biography with Jackie Gleason and Art Carney, if a good story can be written. Stan has heard nothing from Webb, but he approves the casting.

His comment: "Gleason and Carney are the only comedy team who were like us—two comics. All the others are a comic and a straight man". . . .

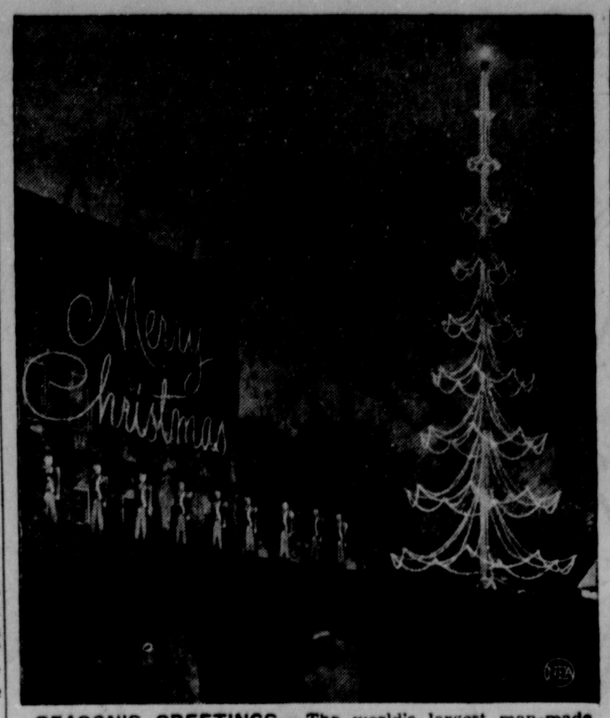

Shiny Shoe Soles Not Army Policy

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—The Army is investigating reports that some spit 'n' polish enlisted men are going so far as to shine the bottoms of their shoes.

A statement issued here emphasized that this was not Army policy.

The situation stems from a letter published in the New York Daily News and signed "Mad Mom." The letter writer said her son had been ordered to shine the soles of his shoes at this Army post.

Col. Albert Gange, Ft. Dix public information officer, said the Army had noted the letter and was trying to get to the bottom of the matter.

SEASON'S GREETINGS — The world's largest man-made Christmas tree, 100 feet high with a trunk of steel, this year features animation. Located on the grounds of General Electric's Nela Park in suburban Cleveland, Ohio, the giant tree is hooked up to an electro-mechanical cycling device and lights up in five sequences to provide the animation effect. Giant, lighted toys are scattered under the tree and more than 7,000 bulbs in bluish green and pink are strung over its huge frame. Nearby hundreds of lamps spell out a cordial Merry Christmas in greeting to the half million sightseers who annually visit the display.

Man Yields to Plea For New Paint Job

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tom Maxwell has yielded to the entreaties of his wife and children and is painting the house, even though he has tod it after midnight.

"My wife Marie said she wouldn't do any decorating for Christmas until I painted the house," Maxwell explained to a reporter who found him painting at 4 a.m. "I work as a market manager until midnight, but I've simply got to finish this job, what with my wife and four kids after me.

"How long has your wife been after you to paint the place?"

About a year and a half."

Gary Cooper Family Goes Under Water

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Looking for something the whole family can do together? Then try underwater exploration.

The Gary Cooper family does it, and they have the time of their lives.

This I learned from Cooper himself, a man not noted for loquacity. But he talked at great length about his family's submarine adventures. It seems they took it up at Antibes last summer on a European vacation. Now they're exploring the Southern California coast, Coop, his wife Rocky and their beautiful daughter Maria.

You'll find them on weekends off the coast of Palos Verdes or Catalina Island. And in water that is a chilling 60 degrees on the surface and as low as 45 degrees below!

"But you don't notice the cold," he explained. "You wear rubber suits that cover you up completely and keep the cold out."

Cooper, who was dressed incongruously in a tuxedo for "10 North Frederick," explained that his family got their training for diving at the bottom of a swimming pool.

"There are several steps you must learn," he said, "how to empty your mask of water when you are beneath the surface. How to take off the mask underwater and put it back on again. How to remove the breathing gear in case of emergency. How to tell when your air supply is giving out.

"The graduation comes when you get a bunch of people to sit in a circle at the bottom of the swimming pool. Each one takes off his breathing gear and hands it to the next person, who puts it on himself."

Having graduated, the Coopers are now plying the Pacific waters. Just two weeks ago, they came across the remains of a wreck off the Palos Verdes cliffs.

"It was scattered all over the ocean bottom," he related. "I brought up a long nail from it, and the thing was square shaped, indicating it had been made before nails were manufactured round.

"No, I don't think it was a Spanish ship. More likely one of the boats that brought the Forty-Niners up from the Isthmus to San Francisco."

Slayer Sentenced For August Killing

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Eugene Harty, 22, knife-slayer of a young housewife and her two children, was sentenced yesterday to from 60 years to life imprisonment.

Harty pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the slaying last Aug. 30 of Mrs. Margaret Skiffington, 30, Brentwood, N.Y., and Maureen, 8, and Robert Jr., 5.

Harty, an unemployed laborer, was a next-door neighbor of the Skiffingtons. He admitted slaying Mrs. Skiffington when she repulsed his advances, and then killing the children because they witnessed the murder.

Horror Films Back; Teenagers Dictate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The horror film is back in a big way, and a psychiatrist says the reason is that adults are curling up with a book or watching television while teen-agers dictate the movie fare.

Dr. Martin Grotjahn of the University of Southern California calls the horror film a form of "self-administered psychiatric therapy for America's adolescents."

Certain childhood anxieties never die, he said. Fear of ghosts, witches, the dark, the sinister and the mysteriously terrible, stay with the adolescent.

The horror film, he says, is a form of nightmare, "and in it old childhood anxieties are activated, given life and a form of objective reality on the screen, and then dispelled."

A Record On Which To Run

Likely Sedalia's parking problem began when some of us heard the first chug of Dr. Asa C. Heaton's automobile on Ohio avenue shortly after the turn of the century. He was one of the owners of such new vehicles when he lived at 109 West Seventh, in recent years the Walter E. Staley property.

Horses and wagons and buggies and hitching posts gradually gave way to gasoline buggies, but not until 1941 was the parking problem given major attention by Sedalia's decision to install parking meters.

Instead of this being the final action to solve the problem, it was merely a beginning. During the succeeding 16 years automotive transportation has overwhelmed Sedalia's capacity to take care of it satisfactorily in downtown shopping areas without off - street parking.

Retrospection would indicate that judgment of the then and present Mayor Julian H. Bagby concerning Sedalia's parking problem was certainly a valid one. In 1941 there was resistance to the so-called new-fangled idea of parking meters. But wisdom concerning their future usefulness prevailed and they were installed.

Now step by step the program of establishing off-street parking facilities is under way. Further visible evidence of administration - sponsored improvements are the new downtown lighting and traffic standards going up. These will also be installed on Broadway when that street is widened in 1958-59.

Then there are the garbage collection and trash pick-up accommodations set up in the latter 40's; an increased number of street lights; more adequate fire protection; more recreational facilities, new parks, more playground equipment; 700 new street signs; a new airport established. During the 1954-57 period old ordinances were revised, new traffic laws established; a city planning program adopted; new annexations to the city; building was at a new high; more street lights with larger bulbs were installed; 50 more fire plugs set; a new street flusher purchased; a program of painting traffic lanes at least once a year; a street and alley department activated for service to the people wanting to establish proper grades for streets prior to later paving in order to save property owners future expense.

During the past 3½ years 50 blocks of seal coat and 60 blocks of hot mix have been spread; 3½ miles of new curb and gutter on both sides of streets; 49 new sewer districts and 10 new additions since 1954.

We recall that Julian Bagby started off as Sedalia mayor in 1935 with a determination to give Sedalia a business administration and a realistic program for future development. When he ran for his first four-year term in 1938, we said this about him: "Julian H. Bagby, the Democratic candidate for re-election as Mayor, is a successful business man, young and aggressive. His administration as mayor since August 1935 is one that is a credit to himself and Sedalia. His personal interests are in Sedalia. He has consistently planned the business and affairs of the city with the sole idea of seeing Sedalia prosper in the future."

Reviewing the past during those terms when he was Mayor, and at this juncture looking to the future, it is patent what was said in 1938 may very well be repeated today but with amplification. A firm, progressive program of city development has been established. Mayor Bagby is familiar with every facet of it. The years have not taken away his vigor and aggressiveness; rather with maturity they have increased.

At a dinner honoring the Mayor, friends expressed confidence in his past accomplishments as a city administrator. They urged him to seek re-election in April 1958.

Someone with stature of leadership and business sense is needed to further advance Sedalia's projects previously inaugurated; someone is needed to give competent direction to future programs that of necessity are created by an expanding community.

Rightly so, Mayor Bagby was pleased by the overtures of his friends but was noncommittal about throwing his hat into the ring.

Soon he will give an answer.

An affirmative one is suggested.

Ike Won't Solve NATO's Old Dilemma

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—NATO has been in a dilemma almost since it was born. It was created to meet one kind of war. But the nature of the war changed and kept changing.

Prseident Eisenhower isn't expected to solve the dilemma when he goes into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's meeting next Monday in Paris.

NATO was created in April 1949 as a loose collection of Western nations, including this country, which promised to help each other if Russia attacked. At that time Russia had no atomic bomb or nuclear weapons.

The West had the advantage. The United States had the bomb. The Europeans could hold back a Russian attack until American bombers went to work. That was the original idea.

Within a few months, NATO faced a new problem: On Sept. 23, 1949, Russia had developed the atomic bomb. Within another four years it had the hydrogen bomb. The original conception of war in Europe—if it came—was gone.

Western Europe now faced possible annihiliation from Russia if war started. It was frightening. But Russia drove the loose-knit NATO partners into a full military alliance by letting the Korean War start in 1950.

Blocked in Western Europe — at least temporarily—Russia began political and economic penetration of Asia and the Middle East while talking peace.

The NATO dilemma began in earnest: How could it counter Russian progress in other areas, particularly the Middle East which is Europe's oil source? NATO hasn't found an answer to that yet. It's still struggling to find one.

NATO is run by the foreign ministers of its 15 member nations. They meet once or twice a year. They've had 21 meetings so far. The day-by-day chores of NATO are handled by their representatives who have the title of ambassador.

The problems facing some of those meetings show some of the dilemma.

Until 1955 Secretary of State Dulles had been warning the main danger from Russia was military. In that year he began to shift his thinking. At the December 1955 meeting he said the main threat was political and economic.

But that meeting produced no solution. By the time of the next get-together in May 1956—there was a developing feeling in the West that NATO was outdated and should find a new role. There was even fear NATO might collapse.

Dulles at that meeting last year said it was time to "advance NATO" in the direction of planning and supporting "more economic development throughout the world." He called for a new program to meet the Communist challenge on the political and economic plans, as well as the military.

That program hasn't emerged yet.

Next week at Paris Eisenhower and Dulles are expected to dwell more on the military problems than on the economic.

By the time of the NATO meeting in December 1956, more changes had occurred: Britain and France shocked their NATO partners by attacking Egypt without consulting them. It raised a ghost which bothered them and still bothers them:

Perhaps someday one of the NATO members would get into a shooting war which might be outside of Europe but nevertheless would quickly develop into war in Europe through Soviet retaliation.

And Russia shocked Western Europe too in 1956: by warning Britain it could be pulverized by Soviet missiles—clear warning to all Europe that Russia had or soon would have weapons that could span the Continent swiftly.

And the nature of the future war was changing: NATO began thinking less in terms of a lot of men in uniform and more in terms of nuclear weapons. Western Europe, by this very idea, had something else to think of.

With the exception of Britain, which had developed its own bomb Western Europe was lying between two nuclear giants: Russia and the United States. If war began, it might be goodby Europe.

If the allies let America use their territory for missile bases, and war started, Russia would hit Western Europe fast. Russia left no doubt of it: it warned it would "liquidate" countries which became American missile platforms.

Now comes Monday's meeting. NATO hasn't worked out yet a program to meet the Russian political and economic challenge elsewhere. And some of the NATO partners are having military misgivings: they don't want American missile bases inside their borders.

This meeting may end like many before it: with big problems unanswered.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Lonely, Determined Dulles Off to NATO

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—An important allied ambassador dropped in to see John Foster Dulles shortly before he was to take off for Paris. The ambassador represented one of our best friends in the west, and he wanted to see what plans the Secretary of State had for keeping together the NATO alliance to protect the free world.

He found Mr. Dulles very much alone. On his desk were sheets and sheets of yellow legal paper. It was the kind the Secretary of State had used to write briefs as a Wall Street lawyer with Sullivan and Cromwell. He was still writing on the same paper — drafting not briefs but speeches and statements—very much alone.

No advisers were with him. No experts helped warn of the intricacies of European diplomacy. He worked alone, his face stern, his hair gray, his brow furrowed, scribbling, scribbling on yellow sheets of paper.

John Foster Dulles presents a pathetic picture today, sincere, untiring, unrelenting, determined to live up to the reputation of his grandfather, John W. Foster, who occupied the same cabinet chair under President Benjamin Harrison. . . . Yet pathetic because he is the most unpopular American in Europe. Despite that opprobrium, he is en route to Paris to keep the NATO alliance together after receiving its biggest jolt in history—realization that the American weapons on which it depended for defense are inferior to Russian weapons.

Yet Mr. Dulles bases his plans for a successful NATO not on economic and political policies, where the United States is strong, but on weapons, where the United States is momentarily weak.

Reactions to "Kaputnik"

To get diplomatic reactions to the position of the United States following the Cape Canaveral fiasco and on the eve of the NATO conference, this writer interviewed various key ambassadors. Here is what they said:

A Latin American ambassador: "Watch what happens in Guatemala on the wake of the Russian Sputnik. You cleaned out the Communists. But on the heels of your failure and Russian success, the Communists will be back soon again. Remember, Guatemala is very near the Panama Canal.

"You don't realize what this failure does to your friends. The president of Panama, a friend of yours, may be out of office next month."

A West European ambassador: "For 10 years we have been telling our people not to worry, America has the strongest weapons in the world, she has the atomic bomb. What our people dread is getting in the middle of another war, sitting between two giants who are pounding each other—and us, because we give bases to you.

"You have to be in the middle of a bombing raid to realize our fear. You have to wake up in the night with the sirens shrieking. You have to bundle your children up and carry them down to the cellar. You have to see the awful glare of the bombs when they hit and wonder when the next will come your way.

"Only then can you realize what the American failure at Cape Canaveral means—and what John Foster Dulles faces. You are sending the most disliked man in America to Europe to save NATO at a time when we can no longer assure our people that American weapons are supreme and that they will be in our corner helping protect us."

Another West European ambassador: "The chief factor which has kept NATO together is Russia. Now the Russians are playing it smart. When your Sputnik went pfffft, the Russians didn't taunt you. That would have drawn Western Europe together behind you. But they were smart. They kept quiet."

A South European ambassador: "Franco has served notice that Spain has to have protection from the United States or else American bases will have to come out. He doesn't want Russian IRBM's or ICBM's dropping over Spain with no modern American weapons to stop them.

"That means about a billion dollars worth of American bases built in Spain may be lost—unless you can prove to the world that you have caught up with Russia.

"Franco has been more blunt than some of the rest of us, but no European country wants American weapons drawing Russian attacks unless those weapons are adequate."

That is a cross-section of European diplomatic sentiment as John Foster Dulles, lonely and tired, flies to Europe with his scribbled notes on yellow foolscap, to try to save the western alliance.

MEXICO LEDGER: Missouri's Greatest Need. Industrial growth is Missouri's greatest need.

The immediate need is revenue.

Give this state plenty of healthy industrial growth and the added revenue from this growth will solve our states' revenue problem. Or, at least, go a long way toward solving it.

How badly does Missouri need industry?

A recent survey by the Missouri state chamber of commerce tells the story:

In population growth, while the national average was 10.9 per cent, Missouri was only 7.6 per cent.

In "manufacturing value added," the national average was 115.9 per cent, while Missouri was only 68.2 per cent.

In growth of employment (jobs), the national average was 28.8 per cent, while Missouri was only 15.8 per cent.

Missouri lags.

Missouri has a good governor.

He knows the above arithmetic. He knows the problem. He knows the dramatic possibilities in correcting Missouri's industrial foot-dragging.

And we can count on him to act.

In the meantime, the number of farms continues its decline. Each year there are fewer and fewer farms.

Where are tomorrow's young people going to go?

To industry, because farm jobs are fewer.

So if we're going to keep them in Missouri—the greatest state of all—let's get more industry for Missouri.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

There is a heavy perfume of Christmas in the air. The plans for the season are growing in the minds of children and adults. We need a long period in which to prepare for the culmination of love and the gift of everlasting peace.

The first Christmas was awaited for many months. In fact the Messiah has been expected for many years. The magi waited for a sign. The followers of John the Baptist were prepared for the coming of Christ. Mary counted the days. Many expected the Messiah but few were ready when Jesus was born.

As we look forward to another Christmas, we must prepare ourselves spiritually as well as with material evidence of love. Our gifts should be bought with the price of self-sacrifice. They should be enveloped with the clear wrappings of sincerity. They should be tied with brilliant ties of fellowships. And they should be presented as shares of love radiating with joyful pledges of peace and hope.

Are Benefits Adequate?

Social Security Survey Will Attempt to Find Out

By MAURICE G. BOEHL
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Some Missouri workers retiring in the next few weeks will be selected to aid in a nationwide survey over the next 12 years on how they get along after they leave the job.

With the number of workers retiring under Social Security constantly increasing, the Administration hopes the survey will provide "a good deal of useful information to public and private agencies working to benefit the rapidly growing number of older Americans," according to Marion B. Folsom, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Social Security estimates there are 283,000 men, women and children in Missouri now drawing benefits from them of which 168,000 are retired workers.

HEW wants to find out about the over eight million men and women in the United States who now draw social security checks. It would like to know how many have enough income with the pensions; how they meet their needs if the pension and other income doesn't stretch; what items become major as they grow older; what about huge medical costs; how long these financially independent remain so after retirement and what aid they get from their children, or elsewhere; what is their attitude toward retirement; what they consider their greatest unmet needs and how this lack effects them.

The last time a survey of retired persons under social security was made in 1951 when 17,000 were questioned. It was found that 95 per cent did not retire willingly but rather were forced to retire by ill health or employment policies of their businesses. HEW would like to know if those retiring in the last decade also feel that way.

Juvenile Law Benefits May Be Slow, Sears Says

Although there have been numerous protests against the new Missouri juvenile code, W. F. Sears, director of training schools feels that the full benefits of the new law won't be felt for at least a year.

Many newspapers have protested against secrecy provisions of the new law which won't permit any publicity of the arrests, hearings or commitments of juveniles—even for traffic violations. Sears said he did not believe it would harm the law to permit publicity in the case of traffic offenders. However, he feels that it would hamper the law to eliminate the secrecy proposals altogether.

"That 'no publicity' proposal is going to help us a lot at the training school at Boonville," Sears said. He explained that the school has many juveniles who will do anything for publicity which increases their reputation with juvenile gangs.

The new juvenile code requires all criminal and traffic cases involving persons under 17 to be handled in circuit court. The court hearings are private and the juvenile cannot be photographed or fingerprinted without permission of the judge. The idea is to avoid any stigma being attached to a person for rash acts committed while they are young.

Sears thinks the new code is the "most progressive step taken in Missouri for dealing with juveniles." He said similar laws have proved highly successful in several eastern states.

"It will take at least a year before we feel some of the benefits of this law," the training school director said. By that time, he said circuit courts will have detention homes for juvenile offenders awaiting hearings and special officers to look after the youthful law violators.

Is Prison Like McGee's Closet?

You never can tell what you'll find in an old closet.

Col. James D. Carter, state director of corrections, discovered that recently when an old broom closet in the prison administration building was opened after being jammed shut for years.

Carter said he was searching for some blueprints of the prison and tackled the old closet as a last resort. He found not only the missing blueprints but the original deed for the purchase of the property the penitentiary now occupies.

The document, brown and tattered with age, is now framed and occupies a place of honor on the walls of Carter's office in the capitol. The deed was made in 1836 and was signed by Daniel Dunklin, the fifth governor of Missouri.

SHORT SNORTS: The state highway commission has decided on a formal appeal against prevailing wage determinations made by the industrial commission. The highway commission decided that prevailing wages for highway jobs, as determined by the industrial commission were too high in many counties and definitely inconsistent . . . Warden E. V. Nash reports that a pop corn machine and an automatic do-nut maker have been added for use in the canteen at the state prison. Now the prisoners can have donuts and coffee or popcorn and soda pop while on recreation periods. . . Gov. James T. Blair is expected to make a quick trip expected to make a quick trip shortly to the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn. for a physical checkup. The governor underwent surgery at the clinic last July. . .

Odds and Ends By News Staff

THERE WAS A good bit of excitement in Southwest Village one day recently when a woman drove up to let a little girl out of the car at her home and found the mother of the child frantically searching the high weeds near the home for her three year old son. She joined in the search and took the mother around the village trying to find the little youngster.

Where had he gone so quickly, the mother wondered. He had just been playing in the yard and went into the house to tell her his dog had gone off. She told him it would come home again and the little boy went back out in the yard. When she looked out to see if he was all right a few minutes later he was gone.

The two women, after driving around everywhere and not finding him finally came back to the home and there he was, a neighbor man holding him securely by the hand, for all the neighbors had been looking for him.

The little fellow was wet and one shoe was missing but he was fine otherwise. When a man in an oil truck found him he was quite a ways down Highway 65 going horth. The man had heard the story about him a little while before when he was in Southwest Village, so picked him up and took him on home.

He evidently had crossed the golf course, fell in a ditch or a puddle of water, lost his shoe and finally came out on the highway.

"Where have you been?" asked his mother, to which the baby replied: "I was lookin' for my dog."

US Flying Officer In New Speed Bid

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A flying officer from Austin, Tex., will try again today to beat Britain's world record over a measured straightaway course, the Air Force says.

Maj. Adrian E. Drew, 37, flew his F101 Voodoo twin jet fighter-bomber at an estimated 1,185 m.p.h. in two passes over the 10.1-mile course Tuesday. That was 53 m.p.h. better than the world record but it did not qualify because a photographic timer failed.
